The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PHILLIP SENFT, Pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Everett, offered the following prayer:

Granted to us by Thy will is the sum of laws from they who searched in the river-valley cradles of civilization, the classic lands, the kingdoms of recent millenniums, altogether with the revelations of Sinai and the all inclusive Kingdom of Christ. Therefore, standing in this witness of the past, may decisions here be made not with cleverness or clumsiness but with sincerity and sagacious ness, as becomes men with so great an inheritance.

In Christ, the representative man, we pray, Amen.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS IN TARIFF AND TRADE LEGISLATION

In the Senate, April 15, 1953.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability;

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our own smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price-cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment;

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent;

Whereas, Pressure that comes from imports of residual fuel oil, having risen from an average of fifty million barrels in the 1946-1948 period to more than one hundred twenty-five million in 1952, or the equivalent of thirty-one million tons of coal; from imports of pottery, watches and parts, glassware, lace, carpets and other textiles, hats and millinery, chemicals, scientific apparatus, cutlery, dairy products, wall paper, luggage and leather goods, and many other articles, will render the upholding of the economy at its high levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom this contained; and

Whereas, A maximum of such trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen, and the stability of our economy by unfair import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to second the nomination of M. Harvey Taylor for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania during the interim.

Mr. President, I have served with Senator Taylor for a great many years. I have learned to know him, I have learned to respect him and he has been at all times as courteous as it is possible to be in the many trying situations that occur in a Senate body.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Westmoreland. Are there an further nominations?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to inquire of the parliamentarian if this is one of the situations in which he could vote.

Senator Taylor has received fifty votes—correction, forty-nine votes. The Senator did not vote for himself. There should be fifty-one votes on that. You have them all, Senator Taylor, and congratulations.

The Chair declares the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor elected President pro tempore for the interim.

PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. At this time, the Chair is happy to present to the Senate the newly and re-elected President pro tempore of the Senate, the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor.

REMARKS OF THE HONORABLE M. HARVEY TAYLOR, PRESIDENT PROTEMPORE

Mr. TAYLOR. Gentlemen ,this is such a surprise to me that I do not have a speech prepared. However, I do thank you and I want to take this opportunity of thanking all of you. I thank the gentlemen on the Republican side daily, and now I wish to thank the Members on the Democratic side who have been so kind and courteous to me, especially a man like Barney McGinnis who is a man of my own age.

God love you all.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would just like to say that it is, indeed, a nice thing to see this affectionate demonstration from one who has reached pretty well up, under his own admission, in years, slightly under the octogenarian class. I often think that if I could just live to be seventy-seven and be able to walk, how happy I will be.

Seriously, Senator Taylor is a wonderful person. He has been a public servant all his life and I am sure that the Democrats, as well as the Republicans, voted for him because of his sterling work.

You know, you must have a tough hide in this business, and I am talking to the Members now. When you get to this stage of a Session of the General Assembly, where five on one side want a bill out and five on the other side do not want it out, you begin to realize what it means to be a public servant. Many times you have no personal interest, most often no personal interest, in a piece of legislation but you try to act effectively in the public interest. I feel that all of the Members of the Senate steadfastly try to do what they feel is in the best interest of the citiezns of Pennsylvania, in order that Pennsylvania may be maintained as the best State in which to live and earn a living.

Certainly, Seantor Taylor exemplifies to the highest degree that spirit. He has my congratulations, and I know that he has your congratulations, love and affection.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I wish to yield the floor to our senior Senator, Senator McGinnis.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have been reading the newspapers for several weeks about a young revolution that is in progress over in the country of Iran. It seems that over there they cannot wait for an election or for a new ruler to come along; they want a transition of government overnight. The same thing is happening down in the Argentine country. A few months ago, when Stalin became gravely ill, the world was in uncertainty and uneasiness until he passed on and until his successor was chosen. A few weeks later, in Czechoslovakia, the same thing happened.

Mr. President, in these United States, in Washington, on January 20, there was a transfer of the government of the United States from the Democrats to the Republicans. The leading newspapers of the United States and Europe pronounced it the most effective and complete transition that ever occurred on this earth.

Mr. President, I have here a clipping from the Christian Science Monitor, which goes on to describe how bitterly Truman fought Eisenhower down to the day of election, but when the American people spoke—let me quote here:

"But as defender of the prestige and continuity of the presidential office he made the most extensive arrangements in American history for the orderly transition of power from the hands of his own administration to those of his successor.

"In doing this Mr. Truman, either consciously or subconsciously, was underlining the greatest single element of inner strength in the western system of government and the one element which distinguishes it most sharply from government as conceived and practiced in authoritarian parts of the world.

"The very process of the orderly succession is the highest single achievement of political man. It is the practice which has liberated mankind from civil war as the means of achieving a transfer from one set of rules to another."

Mr. President, some weeks before the inauguration, Mr. Truman invited the proposed cabinet to come to Washington and sit down with his own cabinet so that they might become more familiar with their duties. Then, on the day of inauguration when General Eisenhower went down to ride up to the Capitol to take his oath with President Truman, I read in a Washington newspaper that General Eisenhower said to the President, "How did my son get over here from Korea? I did not request it and he did not request it." Mr. Truman said, "I ordered it because I felt that if I were being sworn in as President of the United States today, I would want Margaret here." President Eisenhower was sworn in in about an hour, and I think the first order he made was to turn his private railroad car over to ex-President Truman to take he and his family back to Independence, Missouri.

While I am in this conciliatory mood, Mr. President, I want to come back to Pennsylvania and our grand Capitol. I hold in my hand the latest edition of the Pennsylvania Manual. As I open this book, I see a picture here of our very good looking Governor, John S. Fine and, lo and behold, on the opposite page, I see a picture of our handsome Lieutenant-Governor, Lloyd H. Wood. Yes, Members of the Senate, this is the man who presides so gracefully and graciously over this body. Then, as I turn to the next page, down about the middle it says this:

"Prepared by Alice Allen, Under the Direction of Alan D. Reynolds, Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies, and Braton R. Gardner, Director of the Bureau of Publications."

Mr. President, I want to say here that I think this is the finest publication that has ever been put out by this State or any State in this Union. I am sure that every Senator on this floor would join me in extending congratulations to Alice Allen, Alan Reynolds and Braton Gardner for this grand publication.

Mr. President, at the top of this same page is a foreword, in large, beautiful letters. Let me read the first sentence:

"We herewith present the Ninetieth Edition of The Pennsylvania Manual, which is the direct offspring of Thomas Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice published in 1801." That is over 150 years ago, gentlemen.

Then, Mr. President, as I turn to the next page, in fact the next two pages, I find a copy of that immortal document, The Declaration of Independence. While I have it opened here, I want to read the signers from Pennsylvania: "Robert Morris, Benjamin Rush, Benjamin Franklin, John Morton, George Clymer, James Smith,George Taylor, James Wilson, George Ross."

Mr. President, I do not know whether our Senator Taylor, here in this Senate, knows it or not, but I will bet my life that some of the blood that flowed through the veins of George Taylor, who signed this Declaration of Independence, is flowing through the veins of our President pro tempore here today.

Mr. President, let me read the footnote to this immortal document, part of it:

"The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world."

I realize this is a Republican Administration here and that they are responsible for this book. However, when they were so complimentary to Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Democratic Party, I think it is a wholesome thing in government.

Mr. President, I am recalling these occurrences in Washington here for one purpose, to remind us that in this great Country of ours, democracy still works.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, for the remarks that he made about his handsomeness. The Chair never thought of being handsome before and it would not make any difference after he mentioned it either.

The Chair is sure that Senator Taylor appreciates, as well as the Governor, the kindly remarks that were made. It is a wonderful thing that we, under the stress and strain of trying to get this Session over with, have the Minority and the Majority getting up and saying good things about each other.

The Chair would like to say to Senator McGinnis, that was a very solid speech. The Chair can subscribe it to one hundred per cent.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, earlier in this Session, on behalf of myself and my colleague, Senator Camiel, we introduced a bill to prevent the Bridge Authority, the Delaware River Bridge, specifically, in Philadelphia from raising its fare or rate toll from twenty to twenty-five cents. That bill was never acted upon by the committee and we, therefore, subsequently introduced a resolution seeking that this matter be investigated to determine whether this amount of increase in revenue was necessary.

Mr. President, it has now come to my attention that the Department of the Army, of the United States Government, is going to look into this matter, an dis going to hold hearings on August 18, in Camden, New Jersey. This is the result of a Congressman in New Jersey requesting that these hearings be held.

Mr. President, I would, therefore, like to place a request before this body, and before the Majority Party, that someone be sent to these hearings to look into the interests of the citiezns of Pennsylvania who daily cross that bridge and who will have to pay the higher rate which they are now seeking. Our contention is that this increase in fare or toll is not necessary. One of the original propositions, when that bridge was built, was that this amount would not be necessary and eventually no toll would have to be paid in using that bridge.

Mr. President, I, therefore, call upon the Majority Floor Leader, and the responsible Members of the Majority Party, to appoint a group to attend these hearings and to participate in these hearings on behalf of the people of Pennsylvania.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1204, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 1 of the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 131) entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class A having fire departments to allow members of said fire departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week and fourteen days vacation with pay each year except in emergency cases" by further regulating minimum vacation periods

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 131) entitled "An act requiring cities of the second class A having fire departments to allow members of said fire departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week and fourteen days vacation with pay each year except in emergency cases" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 All cities of the second class A having fire departments shall allow every member of such fire departments to have at least twenty-four consecutive hours of rest in every calendar week exclusive of the time when the change of shifts occurs except in emergency cases for the suppression of riots or tumults or the preservation of the public peace in times of war riot conflagration public celebrations and to have an annual vacation of not less than fourteen working days without the diminution of the salary or compensation fixed by ordinance or statute

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, this is another bill which involves the home rule principle. This bill sets vacation periods for the Scranton firemen.

Mr. President, at this time I would like to offer amendments to the effect that if the enactment of this amendment to the present law in the second class A city causes the expenditure of any additional money by the city of Scranton, that the Legislature cause the General Fund of the State of Pennsylvania to reimburse the city for it.

In other words, Mr. President, if we are to legislate the working hours and conditions of employees of a city and that causes an increase in expenditures and taxation, I think it is only fair that the Commonwealth should reimburse the city for those expenses.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after "periods": "imposing the cost thereof on the Commonwealth in certain cases; and making an appropriation." Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 15, by inserting after "statute": "If this amendment causes additional cost to any city, the Commonwealth shall reimburse the city for such additional cost out of the General Fund in the State Treasury. As much of the moneys in the General Fund, from time to time as are necessary, are hereby appropriated to the State Treasurer for the payment of such reimbursements."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS BE ADOPTED

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I move that the amendments be adopted.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object to these amendments.

Mr. President, they represent a beautiful theory, but if we did that with all cities, I am afraid we would have to dig in for a lot more taxes.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like the Majority Floor Leader to repeat just what he said. I think I heard him say that if we did this, it would cost a lot of money from the State Treasury. Am I correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Reporter read what was said by the Majority Floor Leader?

(The Reporter complied.)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is a wonderful theory, but from where does the Majority Floor Leader think the cities are going to get the money?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Mahany?

Mr. BARR. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the Majority Floor Leader tell me where the city of Scranton is to get this money?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, they will get it the same place as the city of Pittsburgh, the city of Titusville and the rest of these cities get it. They certainly should not be in a different category than our cities, Senator Barr.

Mr. BARR. All right, but I do not see any bill in here affecting Titusville. I see bills affecting cities which have Democratic mayors.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, knows that we have legislated for third class cities along this line. Titusville is one of the third class cities, and we have done this in previous Sessions of the Legislature. We did not provide any money to take care of the extra expense that might be involved.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, all I can say is that when we call the roll on these amendments, those who are sincerely for home rule will vote for the amendments and those who are not sincere will vote against the amendments.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I thought that we could close this Session of the Legislature without going into all the local problems, which we have been doing right along.

Mr. President, this body has legislated for Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and then we got into the Erie problem and now we are in Scranton. I believe, in keeping with what Senator Barr just said, that it appears we have been pointing out the cities where we have Democratic mayors and where there has been a political change. I do not believe the Majority Party has that in mind, and perhaps these things have happened by accident.

Mr. President, we can correct these errors by not going for these bills and trying to take care of the local situation by this body. The Members who make up this body come from all over this Commonwealth and are not as familiar with the local problems as the people who live in that area. I believe we shoull leave such local matters to the people in the local area to determine their own problems and their own destines.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that sounds very good to put an amendment in here to again place the responsibility on the Commonwealth. However, from one who has been the mayor of a third class city, it is true that problem can be settled right in the city, but whenever the city refuses, and some members of the council and the mayor become arrogant and will not listen to the employees, what else can they do but come here to Harrisburg and ask to receive some relief? All we are trying to do is help the good citizens of Scranton.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to have another word. I offered these amendments for the purpose of highlighting the problem which has been present in many bills that we have seen here in this Session of the Legislature.

Mr. President, there has been a whole rash of bills going through here, particularly in the closing days, adjusting or changing the working conditions, and the pay and so forth of the employees of the various municipalities in the Commonwealth. Now, I think the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Mahany, very quickly got the point of the amendments. It is certainly not fair for us to sit here and legislate and increase taxes in municipalities like Scranton, and these changes in the laws do cause an increase in taxes. I think it is a local problem that can be best settled at the local level and certainly if we are to legislate in any way which causes an increase in local taxes, then the State should bear a portion of the expenses.

Mr. President, I do not like to see taxes increased. I think the people of Pennsylvania are at the present time bearing the maximum tax load. I do not know where any more money for taxes is coming from.

Mr. President, the purpose of these amendments is just to highlight that problem. As I have said here before on the floor of the Senate, some day, to the demands of all these various groups who are asking us constantly for more and more, we have got to learn to say "no." We just cannot go on with a handout program forever.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. BANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—18

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to say just a few words on the merits of the bill itself, without amendments.

Mr. President, this bill provides that the firemen of the city of Scranton should have fourteen working days vacation each year. I do not think this is a type of problem that should be settled in the State Legislature, and I certainly think it is the type of thing that should no be decided on a party basis.

Mr. President, I have said to the Democratic Members of this Senate, in caucus today, that I cannot ask them all to vote with me on this measure for one reason. This bill has been placed on the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor's Calendar for today as one that the Federation of Labor endorses. In my mind, this is not a true labor bill and I never expected to see the day when I would oppose the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor on a bill which they endorsed. However, I believe that this is not a true labor bill and I believe that the other issue involved, the one of home rule, transcends that issue.

Mr. President, some of us who do not want to get black marks, as far as labor legislation is concerned, do not want to vote for this bill. For that reason, and the additional reason that I do not think it should be decided by a party vote, I have not asked the Democratic Members of this Senate to support me on this measure. I have appealed to them to decide it purely on the basis of the principle of home rule for municipalities. At the present time, of course, no one is going to object to getting a fair and decent vacation as well as fair and decent rights and privileges in their employment generally. However, let us just examine the provisions of this bill.

Mr. President, at the present time, the firemen in the city of Scranton get a fifteen day vacation each year. Their ordinary work week consists of about forty and one-half hours. What they are saying is that when they get fifteen days off, they would have received two and one-half or two days each of those vacation weeks off if they had been working, because their shifts do not call for them to work full time.

Mr. President, the only way in which I can understand that is that I am a lawyer and sometimes I take Saturdays off and always Sundays. I go on a two week vacation, and I do not say that I only am taking a ten day vacation because I would not have worked that Saturday and Sunday, and, therefore, I should take a full fourteen working days vacation.

Mr. President, that is what the firemen have asked in this bill. The net effect of that is that they are not going to get a fourteen day vacation; they are going to get approximaely a twenty day vacation. They are getting a vacation of three days or two days which they ordinarily have off each week before their vacation starts, and, similarly in the week following the vacation, they will get another two or three days off, which in total will give them about twenty days vacation which is fully paid.

Mr. President, the net result of that to the city is that their vacation periods will have to be spread over a year. At the present time the firemen take their vacations over a six month period. Because of this bill, vacations will have to be spread out at least for nine months and probably over the entire calendar year. That will cause, at least in the winter months when you have a normal sickness load of fifteen or twenty men sick or out for illness, particularly in the winter, the hiring of at least ten additional firemen on account of this bill. That means an increase in the city's expenses of approximately $40,000 or very nearly one mill in real estate taxes.

Mr. President, how the city of Scranton is going to meet this additional expense, I do not know. I know that our small home owners are bearing the maximum tax load now, and we cannot increase real estate taxes any further.

Mr. President, I think it is an unfair bill. It is unjust, and it is unsound legislation and I appeal to the Members of the Senate to vote it down.

An the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll. the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is not often that I change a vote, but I deliberately voted the way I did because I wanted to see what the vote would be and how the roll call would come out. I am going to vote "no," although it will be catalogued and probably if I ever become a candidate again, it will be used as an anti-labor vote and will appear as a black mark, as they call it.

Mr. President, I think the arguments made by the gentleman from Lackawanna County cannot be answered. I do not think any person in this room can honestly and intelligently answer the arguments made by the gentleman from Lackawanna County.

Mr. President, how long are we going to continue to be the kind of representatives who say one thing and do another? We complain about the high cost of Pennsylvania's government.—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a moment? Does the Minority Floor Leader desire to change his vote?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President he certainly does. I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am so afraid that we are continuing in the footsteps of those who have preceded us. House Bill No. 1204 is a good political bill. It is nice to be recorded as voting for the firemen in the city of Scranton. It is always nice to spend somebody else's money. All of us like to make ourselves good fellows at the expense of the other fellow. It is like the bartender who works in a place that does not belong to him, and he becomes a very well liked person when he gives the boss's liquor away. That is what we are doing.

Mr. President, we sit here and I know that in private conversation the sound businessmen of this Senate from both political parties know that this is the wrong kind of legislation to be voting. It is political; you can, perhaps, get the firemen's vote next year for one party or another, for one individual or another. However, if the city is forced to place a one mill tax upon the little home owner because we have set a new precedent in vacation pay, this precedent may well drift into your own business. Some negotiator for a labor organization may be sitting across the table from any one of you and say that this two week vacation that we have is not a two week vacation because Saturdays and Sundays we have off anyway.

Mr. President, we may find ourselves being haunted by the precedent that we are setting now for the first time in American history. This is the first time that fourteen days are not considered two weeks. If you want to set that precedent, if you want to set and establish that measuring rod for the future, you have done so very ably this afternoon. I cannot, in good conscience, go along with it, because I think even the firemen understand the chicanery and the dishonesty of a trick like this.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1384, as follows:

An Act to amend the title and the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 82) entitled "An act requiring certain cities to allow members of the fire departments twenty-four consecutives hours of rest each week and fourteen days vacation each year except in emergency cases" by changing the provision thereof relating to annual vacations

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and section one of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 82) entitled "An act requiring certain cities to allow members of the fire departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week and fourteen days vacation each year except in emergency cases" which was repealed as to cities of the third class by the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 103) are hereby amended to read as follows

An Act

Requiring [certain cities] cities of the second class to allow members of the fire departments twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week and fourteen working days vacation each year except in emergency cases

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That any city [except cities of first class and second class A] of the second class having fire departments shall allow and permit every member of such fire departments to have at least twenty-four consecutive hours of rest in every calendar week except in emergency cases for the suppression of riots or tumults or the preservation of the public peace in times of war riot conflagration or public celebrations and to have an annual vacation of not less than fourteen working days without diminution of the salary or compensation fixed by ordinance or resolution of such city

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not want to take the time of the Senate to discuss this bill. I think my colleague from Lackawanna ably described what is in this type of legislation, together with his statement that a second class A city would only have to add ten firemen.

I am most fearful, Mr. President, if this is passed that the firemen will be on vacation in the city of Pittsburgh from January until December.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 902, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 2502 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by limiting the districts entitled to supplemental payments by the Commonwealth on account of pupils in joint schools or in union or merged districts

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. FLEMING offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2502), page 4, lines 1 to 4, by striking out "of the third and" in line 1, all of lines 2 and 3, and "amendment" in line 4, and inserting in lieu thereof: "hereinafter specified"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2502), page 4, by inserting after line 19:

"Supplemental payments shall be made to the following districts only, that are the district of residence. (1) districts of the third and fourth class, (2) districts of the first class A and second class that become part of a union or merged district which conforms to county plans for larger administrative units as prepared by the county board and approved by the State Council of Education, and (3) such other districts as have been approved by the Department of Public Instruction prior to the effective date of this amendment."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS BE ADOPTED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the amendments be adopted.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, the purpose of House Bill No. 902 is to prevent, I believe, in the future some of the union districts being formed by which they get increased subsidies from the State. The bill in its present form specifically excludes union districts being made with second class and first class A districts. The purpose of this amendment is to permit, in the future, districts of the second class and districts of the first class A to form union districts with surrounding communities.

Mr. President, I am particularly offering these amendments because of the terrific situation in which we find ourselves in Allegheny County, particularly in the city of Pittsburgh. The city of Pittsburgh needs the opportunity in the future to form union districts with surrounding communities. If these amendments are not adopted, that avenue will be completely closed to the district of the first class A in the city of Pittsburgh.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would urge the members to adopt these amendments.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I would ask the Members of the Senate to vote down these amendments for very obvious reasons. When the so-called bonus proviso was put into the School Code for additional reimbursements for jointures in union districts, the thinking in everybody's mind was that it would afford an opportunity for rural and small school districts to get together, consolidate and pool their resources and give their boys and girls the same kind of educational services as are available to the cities.

Mr. President, I do not think that it ever entered anybody's mind that first class school districts would use it. Certainly, there was no intention to permit a city, for instance, like Philadelphia, to go out and bring in a little township, beyond the city line, and, therefore, get hundreds of thousands of dollars of bonus reimbursement for their units of children.

Mr. President, I appreciate the position of the Senator from Allegheny, but I do not agree with his reasoning that this is an avenue to get out of the hole. We have a fund for distressed school districts. If any school district in the State is up against it, for legitimate reasons and poverty locally, they can come to Harrisburg and satisfy the Tax Equalizing Board of their distress and be "bailed out," as we so often use the expression.

Mr. President, we must do one of two things. We must either make certain, as this bill does, that economies will be maintained in this consolidation and jointure program, or else we must be prepared, if we adopt these amendments, to further subsidize schools to the extent of a million or more dollars which are not in the budget as it came from the Governor's office or as it is in the general appropriation bill.

I would ask the friends of schools, generally, who want a fair distribution of State subsidies, to vote "no" on the amendments, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I have to oppose this bill because I am afraid it will cripple a very excellent recreation program which we have developed in the city of Scranton.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I think it is a little unexpected that we should at this time be reducing salaries on people who are taking care of our recreation facilities in the cities of our Commonwealth.

Mr. President, as all of us know, the recreational parks in downtown communities are sometimes frequented by young people who are not too well behaved. For this reason, it is very important to have men supervisors there who can handle and cope with the situation. Reducing salaries at this time will result in only one thing. That will be that we will have women supervisors exclusively in our downtown parks doing this type of recreational supervision.

Mr. President, I have been informed that locally, in our own situation in York, when that occurs and it is necessary to have women supervisors in these difficult areas, they serve perhaps for one year and the next year they are so discouraged that they refuse or fail to apply to come back into that field. As a result, there are new women supervisors on each park each year. At the present time, because of the possibility of paying a decent salary to supervisors, they have succeeded in getting coaches and qualified people to take those positions and they are doing a splendid job.

Mr. President, if we enact this legislation, we will be taking a step backward in recreational work in my city, as well as every other city in the Commonwealth. I think it would be tremendously unfortunate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, my copy of Senate Bill No. 830 indicates that we are going to pay $2.50 an hour, which is the present reimbursement. What it does provide is that you have to have certification in your field, which would make it pretty difficult to have a girl teaching the boys basketball. A lady teacher usually is not certificated in that subject.

Mr. President, we have eliminated the social programs. In one of the Pittsburgh newspapers, last week they derided the Legislature of this Commonwealth for letting them form classes for social activities in which they studied badminton and probably canasta and kindred subjects.

Mr. President, this does not eliminate extension education; it does not eliminate physical education or playground work. It pays $2.50 an hour as it did before, but it does require that you have to know your stuff. That is not bad, even in the Legislature.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that is exactly the feature that I am opposed to. This eliminates the practical, ordinary citizen who has worked around playgrounds and recreation areas in the smaller communities over the years and has become the recreational director. This stops the schools from giving any support toward the program by way of salaries paid to that individual.

Mr. President, if we keep passing licensure bills, if we keep passing closed shops for certain trained personnel, the first thing that we will know in the State of Pennsylvania, you will not be able to earn a living in any activity whatsoever and be an untrained person, except in the Legislature. Qualifications are set up for every mean and little task in the State.

Mr. President, the best recreational directors in Pennsylvania are those who came up through the practice of everyday connection with recreational activity in the community. You are going to substitute for that somebody who can be certified by some superintendent of schools who has taken some course in a classroom. I have consistently tried to vote against the kind of legislation that narrows the field of endeavor where a person can earn a livelihood. I believe that practical persons can be just as qualified as those who have had a formal education in the classrooms. Some of the greatest men in our industrial life of America had little or no formal training.

Mr. President, the patron saint of the Republican Party, and probably one of the greatest Americans who has ever lived, was a man who trained himself and could not pass the examination in Pennsylvania today to teach school in Pennsylvania, let alone become the President of these United States.

Mr. President, the only field left open for a self-trained person is the field of politics, and you are narrowing that down with all of the civil service laws that you are passing.

Mr. President, we elected today a man over seventy years of age as the President pro tempore of this Senate, whose formal education was stopped because of the need of his family before he entered high school. However, if he had to pass this kind of a test, he could not even be a page boy in this Senate, let alone the President pro tempore.

Mr. President, these people are trained in their field by the work that they have done. A greater number of them are in the recreational field because they love the work; because they like the activity; because they enjoy being around children and helping them. You are going to make it now so that a person gets the job just because they passed some kind of a test. I think that the sensible men of the Senate ought to vote "no."

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I would like the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, if he will, to refer to page 3, lines 11, 12 and 13, in which it says as follows:

"Teachers leaders supervisors and directors of extension recreation activities holding a certificate valid for the subjects in which he is giving instruction one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per hour"

Mr. President, you will notice in the section above that —perhaps, I should phrase it this way. You will note, Senator Wagner, that this is a reduction from $2.50 an hour to $1.50 an hour.

Mr. WAGNER. That is right, Mr. President. We started talking about two things at one time. We were talking about looking after children downtown in social activities who are hard to handle and you need capable, well paid people. They get $2.50 an hour for any study, classes or instruction.

Mr. President, the gentleman is right. The reimbursement for certified teachers of playgrounds and physical education is $1.50 an hour. What I probably had in mind at the moment is this. There is stricken out of the bill a provision which paid certificated instructors $2.50 an hour and temporarily certificated people, $1.50 an hour.

Mr. President, I would like to say to the gentleman from York, Senator Leader, that in many parts of the State they were bypassing and neglecting the $2.50 certificated people and employing the emergency certificated people at $1.50 in thir programs in prior years. The correction is in order, but the practical application is rather definitely what I indicated.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I would like to ask if the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, would agree that this is about a forty per cent reduction for the certificated people who are engaged in this type of work.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, his arithmetic is probably as god as mine. Two dollars and a half, less forty per cent, apparently would leave us with a net of $1.50. However, do not forget, the people who love boys and girls are the people who are always out on the playgrounds with them, even at a time when nobody paid them anything. Most of those who have a genuine inter est are rather happy to do it for $1.50 an hour.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, further.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wagner, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WAGNER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, will he note on page 4, line 11, that there is a reduction there in hours, and also again on line 15? Will he agree that by reducing the hours we are also reducing the take-home pay of these people in this type of work?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I am ready to agree with almost anything in order to get a chance to eat. However, I wish to cite further that in line 11, we reduce from twelve to ten clock-hours per week the maximum teacher load for general extension teachers who are also concurrently engaged in full time day-school teaching or other full time employment. The teachers have been telling us how they have a pretty heavy load.

Mr. President, ten clock-hours a week outside of school, at $2.50 an hour for the certificated personnel, would give them an extra $25.00 a week or $108.33 a month, in addition to their salaries, for that outside activity.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I would like to correct the gentleman. I believe if you take ten times $1.50, it would only be $15.00 per week. Perhaps the gentleman is right, Mr. President. I stand corrected in that instance.

Mr. President, the point I want to make is that when we reduce the hours and reduce the hourly rate of pay, it is rather obvious that we are going to reduce the take-home pay for these people in recreational work. It is all right for us to talk a great deal about juvenile delinquency and make a great to-do about it. However, if we are not willing to do something constructive to see that these people are constructively occupied, we have only ourselves to blame.

Mr. President, I want to say finally that it has been promoted here all Session that we should give the State employees an increase in pay of ten per cent. I find not too much fault with that. It seems rather add, however, that these people who are providing such important service in the Commonwealth to our young people, that we should make a tremendous cut at this time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, something the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator Wagner, said struck a note that I have not thought of until this moment.

Mr. President, a few years back I think we sat in the Senate of Pennsylvania and heard the story about the overworked schoolteachers, and we cut the number of pupils per class and increased the number of classrooms so that the teachers would not be so overworked. Now they are able to take extra hours at this kind of work.

The main thing, Mr. President, that it does and will do, believe me, it will take away an opportunity for the young college boys and girls who are working their ways through schools to come home in the summertime and work on the recreational program of the small communities and earn enough to buy some clothes for the next term when they go back to school.

Mr. President, they say to me, "That does not affect it. All we do is take away the reimbursement." Every school board is built the same. They will pile every kind of an activity onto the load so they can get more reimbursement from the Commonwealth. So, they will not employ anybody who will not allow them to get reimbursement from the Commonwealth. You are eliminating this opportunity for young people going to school to work in the summertime and in the evenings, those who very often come home, in a recreational program to earn sufficient money in order to help pay their tuition or buy their clothes or buy their food while they are going to school.

Mr. President, I think it is a terrible thing for the teachers to try to come in and close the shop on this activity like they have on everything else. I think we have been very liberal with the teachers in Pennsylvania. I do not believe that I have ever cast a vote since I have been here that in any way would hamper the school and educational programs. However, I am also a sound, practical person and I do not believe that you have to have a college education to show a kid how to ride on a swing.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, it seems too bad that we have to have so much misunderstanding about what is purely a recreational matter. It has only been in recent years that recreation has become a problem of the so-called State or public activity. They were community affairs.

Mr. President, there is nothing in this bill that prevents a community from setting up any type of recreational program it wants to and paying its directors or its instructors whatever it wants to. The basis of this bill is to establish a figure on which the subsidy will be calculated. If a school district's subsidy, say, if thirty per cent, then the State will pay, in the case of $1.50 an hour rate, forty-five cents of that amount and the local community must match it with $1.05. If the local community wants to pay more money for this extension recreational activity, there is nothing in the world to stop them from doing that.

Mr. President, why, though, should the recreational cost be borne by the State or such a large portion be borne by the State? It seems to me that we are beginning to look toward the State for more and more of the things that we should do for ourselves. We complain about the high cost of State Government. Here is one way in which we can cut it down; not with essential activities of instruction, but with things which we should be doing for ourselves in recreational activities. I am, indeed, sorry that we have tried to confuse the issue by making so many statements which mislead and permit people to draw the wrong conclusion.

Mr. President, this bill is certainly in line with the efforts that we have been trying to put forth in this Session to reduce some costs where it will do the least harm.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, the Senator from Westmoreland is so correct in what he says about his interest in the schools and his support of the school program that, certainly, I would not want this to end on a sour note, because I know he is just as sincere in what he says as I am in what I say.

Mr. President, I do think that the gentleman from Westmoreland is just a little bit out of proportion when he talks about the overworked schoolteachers monopolizing these jobs. This involves extension and recreation, and extension is extra work during the school year, which no college student would be available to do and we reduce the extra hours from twelve to ten, which takes the load off of them so far as work is concerned.

Then, Mr. President, in the matter of college students, I do not know how they manage it in Westmoreland County, and I am tempted to appeal to Senator Dent to confer with his colleague, Senator Ruth, of the Education Committee. I do not know what Senator Ruth will say, but, Senator Dent, you must have certification of some kind to get State reimbursement. If I teach school and I have gone through college and majored in algebra, French and Latin and I have not majored in civics, because I am a college graduate I can get a temporary certificate in civics. However, until I have gone through school, Senator Dent, I do not think I could get a certificate from Harrisburg in recreational activity, which would permit any reimbursement from the State.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I may be wrong in some of the assumptions that I have taken and if I am, I am willing to stand corrected. However, I know that the way we run our recreational program at home is what I am basing my action upon.

Mr. President, I predict that within a very short period there will be no one employed in the recreational activities in every town in the State of Pennsylvania unless they are the kind of persons who will make reimbursement available for that school district. That is just as sure as I am standing here, because I witnessed it over a long period of years.

Mr. President, at the present moment, we have one recreational director who receives a certain amount of money from the school board. When this bill is through, that recreational director will have to leave, in all probability, because he does not hold a certificate, although he has been at it for twenty some odd years. If we do not get some money from the school board, they will not be able to pay him. It is a small community. If you are going to set up standards for reimbursement beyond the standards that he, himself, is able to attain—well, I do not know much about his French and his Latin, but I think his physics may be all right.

Mr. President, I say that if you pass this bill, within a very short period of time there will be no one working in a recreational activities in your community except those who can help that school district get reimbursement from the Commonwealth.

May we be at ease a moment, Mr. President?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as has been known for many years, you get a great deal more learning from light than you do from heat. So, we have discussed the matter and we have come to the conclusion that there are certain amendments that must be made to this bill, because the aims of the sponsors are laudable and they will save the Commonwealth a great deal of money. However, those of us who had bona fide objections to it have prevailed upon the Majority Members to see our point of view in that regard.

Therefore, Mr. President, we are going to vote for the bill as it is, with a gentleman's agreement that the Chairman of the Education Committee in the Senate will go to the House with Senator Ruth, our leading exponent of proper education in Pennsylvania, to speak to the House Members to put into the bill the necessary amendments.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Resolution Serial No. 126 together with communication from the Senate be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 15, 1953.

Whereas, The increased importation of numerous products that come into competition with the output of factories, farms and mines of Pennsylvania, replacing the products of Pennsylvania's industries, is a constant menace to the State's continuing economic stability;

Whereas, The lower wages paid abroad make it impossible for many of our own smaller and medium-sized producers to compete with imports without resorting to ruinous price-cutting, which in turn would result either in financial losses or heavy pressure for wage reductions and outright unemployment;

Whereas, Our National obligations have reached such extreme proportions that the National income must be maintained at its present unprecedented high level, or close thereto, lest we become insolvent;

Whereas, Pressure that comes from imports of residual fuel oil, having risen from an average of fifty million barrels in the 1946-1948 period to more than one hundred twenty-five million in 1952, or the equivalent of thirty-one million tons of coal; from imports of pottery, watches and parts, glassware, lace, carpets and other textiles, hats and millinery, chemicals, scientific apparatus, cutlery, dairy products, wall paper, luggage and leather goods, and many other articles, will render the upholding of the economy at its high levels most uncertain and difficult, unless all import trade is placed on a fair competitive basis and the potential injury therefrom this contained; and

Whereas, A maximum of such trade results from a prosperous domestic economy freed from the threat of a breakdown resulting from unfair import competition; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States that adequate safeguards be provided in tariff and trade legislation against the destruction or lowering of our American standard of living, the labor standards of our workmen, and the stability of our economy by unfair import competition and that existing trade agreements legislation be amended accordingly; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Commerce, the Secretary of Labor, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Chairman of the United States Tariff Commisison, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I introduced House Bill No. 1203 at the request of very reputable business and professional men in the city of Philadelphia, namely the realtors and the real estate brokers.

The purpose of this bill was to prohibit the city of Philadelphia from increasing the real estate transfer tax any higher than one percent which prevails at the present time. The bill has been on the calendar for several weeks, and I did not realize until last night when the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny County informed the House in his very wonderful manner that I kept the Minority Leader so busy on Philadelphia legislation that he could hardly apply his great talents to state-wide activities.

Not even the Minority Leader will have to worry about what I am going to do now nor will any Member on the Democratic side from Philadelphia with respect to this bill. A miracle is about to happen, and I think they are going to concur in what I am going to suggest.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities-Counties-First-Second and Second Class A to die a natural death.

Mr. McCORMACK. If the motion has not been seconded, Mr. Speaker, I would like to second it, and in addition I would like to say that since Mr. Hamilton was responsible for giving city employes 40 hours a week, I think the gentleman realizes that it will cost probably in excess of $6 million to pay for those forty hours. It is unduly restrictive and unfair to have such a restriction on the city of Philadelphia with respect to taxes. The gentleman knows that they will probably have to raise taxes to get this additional revenue, and I think the motion is a good one and I ask everyone to vote for it.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad that motion was agreed to, but I would like to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, inasmuch as I am always in favor of non-political, and bipartisan legislation, that 40 hours a week is really a great benefit. Mr. Speaker.

I do not want to get into that debate now because in the wisdom of this House it passed that legislation, and I am perfectly satisfied.

On the question of money, I could give some very excellent answers as to how the money could be raised to finance it. Our distinguished Mayor is here, I am sure he is familiar with that problem, and I will let it rest with him.

If a majority of the electors of the township voting therein shall be in favor of incorporation as shown by the returns of the election the court shall proceed on the petition as in other cases If not the petition shall be dismissed

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, several days ago when this bill fell on final passage, I opposed the bill. I acted at that time under a complete misapprehension. I have since studied the bill a little bit more closely and find that the provisions to which I thought I was objecting did not exist in the bill.

I therefore request Members of this House to support passage of House Bill No. 394.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, when this bill came up for a vote on the first occasion, I was one of those who opposed it. At that time I pointed out that this bill had both good and bad.

So that we understand what the bill does, and the effect of it if it is passed, I want to make a brief statement, allow the Members of the House to understand and then to vote according to the conviction they have.

This bill requires that before a new borough can be formed out of any part of a first class township, you must have an election of the entire township and approve the withdrawal of that portion which wishes to form a borough.

That, of course, sounds like a referendum and generally speaking, I approve of referendums and like them. However, it does one thing. It leaves one portion of the township at the mercy of the rest of the township. In this respect, you may have a portion of a first class township which is very heavily populated, and yet they do not have enough people to control the entire vote of that township.

The people in the heavily populated area wish to have some improvements made and they continually seek the same from the township commissioners. The township commissioners, realizing that they have the majority of votes, sit back and refuse to make those improvements.

After a period of time that particular area has no other remedy than to create a new borough, or at least threaten to create a new borough. Many times in the past it has happened that the mere threat to create a new borough has brought the township commissioners in line and those particular people have been granted improvements. At other times the township commissioners have been arbitrary and have refused to grant the improvements and refused to give the area the kind of government they want, and so they are forced to withdraw and create a new borough.

If this bill is passed those heavily populated districts will be completely at the mercy of the township commissioners in the event that the vote of the township at large is required, particularly if the area which seeks to secede does not out-vote, or have enough votes to outvote the remainder of the township. That is the bad feature of tfhe bill. It places a township commissioner group in a position to manipulate and to provide only those services which they wish.

On the other hand, we have the good part of the bill. The good part of the bill is that it stops one portion of the township from withdrawing and leaving the other portion on the vine to die because taking out the best portion of a township often ruins the remainder of the township.

As I say, that is the good feature of the bill. In the previous debate it was said by the sponsor, one of the sponsors of the bill, that it created havoc with the financial situation in the remainder of the township. That could conceivably be so. However, I wish to inform the Members of the House that when the borough is formed, it is formed by the court and the court, after long hearings, adjusts the indebtedness between the newly created borough and the remaining part of the township. It becomes a very difficult problem to create a bad financial situation for the remainder of the township because the division is usually made, that is the division of the debt of the township, is usually made on the basis of assessments, and of course the area which then forms the borough is usually an urban, or more likely to be an urban area, and carries the highest assessment. When the adjustment is made the borough must assume the great portion of that indebtedness.

As I say there are good points and bad points. I have no desire to state which outweighs the other, other than to say in my opinion the bad points in this bill, the bad effects, outweigh the good effects. For that reason I am opposed to it.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to Mr. Lopresti, I think the gentleman gave a fair appraisal of this bill. It is a bill that I think each and every one must look to his own particular experience to determine his feelings.

However, I would like to point out something that the gentleman in his second instance did not show the House, and that is this.

First, this bill only pertains to first class townships, and as you know, they require 300 persons per square mile to form a first-class township. herefore, you can assume that it is a little different from a second-class township because in that case maybe the heavily populated section of the township is practically the only population of the township. In a first class township that is not very probable. There are only 60 first class townships in Pennsylvania.

In consideration of that point we in the 1951 Session passed the law of annexation requiring the whole township to vote on the annexation or removal of any section of that first class township. Now why did we do that? We did that for the same reason that I want to see this bill become law, because sometimes these people have been to the commissioners of a first class township time and time again. They have gotten their roads; they have gotten their services and in the case of Pleasant Hills Borough, which broke away from Jefferson Township, they had participated and been mainly responsible for the sewer lines and the bond issue for sewers in that township. When the township was laying the sewers and had part of them laid, Mount Pleasant Borough decided it would go to court and secede from Jefferson Township, and as the attorneys who opposed it told me, the cry was "Why, we would never have had this bond issue for sewers if it had not been for you, Mt. Pleasant Borough."

Mt. Pleasant Borough said to the court, "Well, gentlemen, we do not even have any sewer lines yet. We should not be bound up in this obligation," and they were not. As a result, a lot of bonding outfits that buy bonds were pretty badly stuck and still are.

Today you try to get those outfits, those agencies, to come and bid. Those brokers will not bid for municipal bonds because they feel that they have no assurance, that at any time some borough is going to break away from the first class township.

People of a first class township have contributed, and the gentleman only showed where the commissioners have done nothing. We take good government as the premise in this House. When they put roads in, they improve the roads; they maintain them. For that reason people come and live in those sections and they do not do it so that that section will break away without the whole township approving.

What are these people doing to get around the annexation law? They are forming boroughs, and then they go in and consolidate with another borough. You should not be able to do indirectly what you cannot do directly. I say that if a first class township has made a community what it is, invited people to come in to build up its own community and the taxpayers' money of the whole township has gone to make that a better community, then I think it is only fair that all the members of that township, all the citizens, have a say, one way or the other, not just to go into court and argue that they are losing some of their valuable assessments. Before that final decree of court is made, they have a right to vote on whether that portion of that township will break them up and leave them stranded to become an old backward township and maybe have to revert back to a second class township because they do not have the population they had before.

I think it is a very important bill and I think it will solve many, many problems financial and otherwise.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I am very much interested in this piece of legislation. In my county we have just created a first class township. I sympathize with the gentleman on the bill that we passed two years ago on the annexation question. I agreed that such legislation should be passed. Now we find that the first class township is trying to prohibit any group of people within that township from creating the kind of government they want in that township. If they want to create a borough, I do not know why they would have to have the entire vote of the township.

The gentleman remarked about the sewers. Well, naturally when you come to thickly populated sections, they need these sewers; they need these improvements. If the township as a whole will not give it to them, they only have one other recourse, and that is to create a borough.

How anybody in the world could vote to stop any particular group of people in any township from creating a borough and creating the government they want to live under I don't know. I think it is a very bad bill.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I just have this answer to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

The people in that municipality did, after all, create that first class township, and they chose their government and cast their lot with the people within geographic limits of that first class township. This would prevent those people from getting everyone else to take that step then backing out and leaving them stranded.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I felt that I made myself perfectly clear. The people can create the first class township. After the first class township is created, especially in these days, people are moving out into the sections of the townships, first and second class townships. There is getting to be a certain section of that township, after the township has been created, where people move in and it is heavily populated. They need the service of sewers and so on and so forth, and then you take the broad space of the township and ask the people to vote on this question where they are not affected in any way at all because they are scattered throughout the township, there is no heavily populated section. Therefore, you deprive the people in that heavily populated section of the right to create the borough that will give them the kind of government they want.

I do not know how anybody could be for prohibiting people from having the government they want in their own particular section if they want to create the borough.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLACK. Mr. Speaker, this bill allows reciprocity with other states in beauty culture, providing they have met the same standards as those of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or higher standards.

I believe there was a misunderstanding with the American Federation of Labor as to what this bill does. They have told me they have withdrawn their opposition to this bill.

I therefore ask the Members of the House to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There will be a caucus of the Philadelphia Democratic Members immediately, at the request of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hersch.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MAXWELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as we all know we have been in Session here since last January. We have spent many days, weeks and months attending the Sessions of this General Assembly.

Many of us have sacrificed our business or occupation at home and we have lost quite a deal of money attending these Sessions.

I personally have suffered quite a loss. My practice at home has been neglected. My bank account has gradually dwindled away. I have lost contact with all my constituents. I have lost the affection of my wife and my children by being away so long.

Mr. Speaker, we all know that when we accept a public office we expect to make sacrifices. But Mr. Speaker, I did not expect to lose my shirt in such a manner as I did last evening.

Please, Mr. Speaker, will the Chair as rapidly as possible bring this Session to a close before I lose a more embarrassing part of my wearing apparel.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. There will be a Republican Caucus at 2:15 DST.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for two hours. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Charles C. Smith) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome at this time a former member from Allegheny County who was here during the Session of 1935, the Honorable Albert Tronzo.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mrs. COYLE. RESOLUTION No. 82.

In the House of Representatives, July 23, 1953.

Whereas, The Philadelphia Civil Service Commission from time to time holds medical examinations for applicants for the police and fire departments of that city; and

Whereas, Any applicant who fails to pass one of these examinations is disqualified for the police and fire departments; and

Whereas, The experience of the medical examiners of the armed forces of the United States has established the fact that on re-examination many formerly rejected applicants have passed and qualified under the same identical examinations: therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvaina hereby urges the Civil Service Commission of the City of Philadelphia to permit and encourage the medical reexamination of all rejected applicants who so request in order that all applicants will have the full opportunity to meet the high medical standards of the Civil Service Commission of Philadelphia; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Civil Service Commission of Philadelphia and to Joseph S. Clark, the mayor of said city.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

MEMBERS FILES TO BE SHIPPED

Mr. BAUMUNK asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 23, 1953.

Resolved, That the Bureau of Publications, through the Department of Property and Supplies, be directed to ship the files of bills and journals of the Members to the addresses designated by them, as directed by the Chief Clerk of the House.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HAUDENSHIELD asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Welfare to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GEER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think one of the best assurances this grand state has for good highways is the fact that the Members of the Legislature travel to and from the Legislative Sessions over the state highways, and one of the roads which gets constant surveillance is the Pennsylvania State Turnpike.

Recently I have made this observation, to which I think we should call attention of the proper officials in the Turnpike Commisison. You will observe in present day travel all the highway gasoline stations and restaurants are jam-packed. In one instance I saw 33 automobiles waiting in line to get gas or to have their cars serviced in some other way.

That defeats the whole purpose of the Turnpike, which is to expedite travel. I think the Turnpike Commission should make an observation of that fact that the concessions it put up at a distance of practically 35 miles apart back in 1936 and 1937 are not at the proper distances at the present time.

Automobile travel has become much more frequent, and I think it should be called to the attention of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission and whatever authorities handle the matter to consider making more concessions to accommodate the people who travel the Turnpike.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1389, entitled:

suance of a complaint, the conducting of a hearing, and the making of an order; empowering the board to petition a court of common pleas for the enforcement of its order, and providing a procedure for such cases; providing for the review of an order of the board by a court of common pleas on petition of any person aggrieved by such order, and establishing a procedure for such cases; providing for an appeal from the common pleas court to the Supreme Court; providing the board with investigatory powers, including the power to issue subpoenas and the compelling of obedience to them through application to the proper court; providing for service of papers and process of the board; prescribing certain penalties," by further defining "labor organizations" and imposing duties thereon.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry with leave to submit this statement for the record.

The motion was agreed to.

STATEMENT BY MR. TOMPKINS

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I got the idea for House Bill No. 1389 from an article by Victor Riesel entitled "Is Labor Committing Suicide" in the June 1953 issue of Mercury Magazine.

He states: "However, the problem is greater than the waterfront. Even now Meany does not know if he has the support of all the AFL high command. Without their backing, he can do little, for the AFL president actually has no union post of his own to fall back on if the other national chiefs ever decide to dump him. Certainly there will be pressure to stop any crime-busting move inside the AFL after the New York waterfront is cleared.

"If Meany gets support he can beat the mobs and their crooked labor fronts. There is the example of George Barash, Secretary-Treasurer of a teamsters union, Local 815, Drug, Chemical, Cosmetics and Affiliated Industries Employees Union in New York. Pressured by mobsters who hoped to soften him as they had others, this slim young leader fought back against their efforts to chisel and muscle into the multi-million-dollar drug and cosmetic industries as they had into the dress and trucking fields.

"This Union official didn't bother to sit with the goons. He merely sent word, bluntly warning them that if they persisted in making trouble he would 'take a thousand members off their jobs, meet the mobs in the streets and literally wipe them out of the industry.'

"This direct challenge to the goons, reminiscent of the early days in the needle trades when hundreds of workers would simply line up before a 'protected' gangster-run shop, was also printed in the Union's publication and distributed throughout New York City. The mobs never flexed a muscle.

"Earlier, this Union made labor history by setting up its own anti-crime committee and requiring all candidates for union office to swear in affidavits that they had no criminal past—no prison records or criminal ties. The union also wrote to Governor Thomas Dewey urging legislation requiring all labor leaders to file similar affidavits with the State Government—just as they sign non-Communist oaths for the Federal Government. Failure to file such documents or perjury in the filing would result, according to this plan, in the loss of any rights under our labor laws. The Union urged too that such officials and their unions be enjoined from picketing.

"That's a mighty big plan from a small union. But it's worth heeding. For, if the day has come when national labor chiefs are too big for advice from the little fellows, that's the day of doom for labor. If the day has come that national union chiefs fear to force the hand of the mobs and the syndicate fronts inside labor, then the labor movement has committed suicide.

"There will be little left to do but wait for the mobs to bury it.

"Where are the crusaders of yesteryear?"

I would call your attention to the fact that until May 11 of this year, an applicant for State Employment had to sign the following affidavit:

"4. (a) Have you been convicted of any crime within the last two years (excluding traffic violations for which a fine or forfeiture of $75 or less was imposed?

"(b) Have you ever been convicted of a felony?

"(c) Are you now on probation or parole?"

Since May 11, 1953, an applicant for State Employment must sign the following affidavit:

"Since your 18th birthday, have you ever been arrested, indicted, or convicted, fined or imprisoned or placed on probation (excluding minor traffic violations for which a fine or forfeiture of $25 or less was imposed)? (If your answer is yes, list all such cases. Give in each case (1) the date; (2) the nature of the offense or violation; (3) the name and location of the court; (4) the penalty imposed, if any, or other disposition of the case.)"

I purposely had the bill drafted on the basis of felonies and misdemeanors in order to rule out traffic violations, game violations, fish violations, and numerous other offenses which are classified as summary proceedings.

The exemptions provided in H-1389 are much greater and more voluminous than those contained in the affidavit required for State Employment.

Motor vehicle violations classified as misdemeanors are drunken driving, failure to stop and render assistance, and frauds in connection with motor vehicle titles and operator privileges.

DuBois,

NOT VOTING—1

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration of final passage of Senate Bill No. 155, entitled as follows:

An Act prohibiting the attaching of metal or other hard substance to public utility poles

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 It is unlawful to drive a nail or tack or attach any metal or hard substance to or into any pole of a public utility pole line Any person violating the provisions of this act shall on summary conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25) or undergo imprisonment for ten (10) days

This act does not prohibit the public utility company or its licensee using the poles from affixing its metal or other markers or from otherwise using the poles in its public service nor does it prohibit the attaching of highway reflectors to such poles nor does it prohibit municipalities from erecting traffic signs and other signs similar thereto when authorized by the owner of such poles or by provision of law

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(Remarks by Mr. Readinger and his interrogation of Mr. Scott and Mr. Scott's replies expunged at this point from the record at their request and by permission of the House.)

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Scott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Carbon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCOTT. I Shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if the utility company decides to put a pole right outside my home I have no jurisdiction, do I?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would say that under the law a public utility could put a pole outside the gentleman's home, that is correct.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that they can set that pole right in my view and I have no right to put a sign on it or do something about it if I care to? Suppose I wanted to put a piece of paper up there to stop the light or something from coming in, could I do that? I do not have any shades on the front porch.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would say in answer to the gentleman if this bill passes, he would not have the permission to do that unless the public utility company gave him the right to do it, gave him the license to do it.

M. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, we gave public utilities authority to do nearly everything they want to do. I do not know why we could not do something about it.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman expect an answer to that?

Mr. LOVETT. Yes, if there is one.

Mr. SCOTT. It is rather a leading question.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, you might make a joke out of this if you want to, but I do not see it as a joke. There are probably some folks here who are aware of the fact that a lot of things you do to the poles placed along the highways are somewhat of a hinderance, an interference to farmers and people using that land. They have been, in my opinion, very cooperative in not opposing public utilities on such lines that are for the benefit of the common public.

In many instances they can prevent lots of accidents by placing reflectors on poles which have some metal back of them, and in many instances on lines where they must put fences. In many instances they are put in places where it does not interfere in any way with the intended use of that pole to have fences there.

I realize these are usually put at road lines, but I also realize that there is an advantage to the highways, for example, and a disadvantage to the landowner in making use of that ground right up to the line and not having it grow up in rubbish and one thing and another. That is the logical place to put a fence, and this would prevent its being attached which is no disadvantage to anyone.

I see many reasons why this bill is objectionable and I am opposing it.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the last speaker did not read the bill too thoroughly because he raised the question about putting reflectors on these poles. If he had read the bill, he would find that this bill does not prohibit that—it specifically mentions here in the bill that it does not prohibit the attaching of highway reflectors to such poles.

In addition to that, the reason I amended this bill was to change the effect of it so that utilities could grant to certain people the right to attach certain things to the poles, and I presume if a farmer desires to attach a fence or something like that to a pole, all he would have to do would be to go to the public utility company and get permission to do that. I am sure if it were a reasonable request, they would go along.

Mr. GIBSON. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate to speak on this bill but I feel that because of a personal experience I have had, I should.

I was a lineman for a number of years—a good many years and I hate to look that far back—and, I have had some experience with poles in which nails and tacks have been driven and attached. This is a safety measure.

I recall one instance when my spur hit a group of tacks in a pole that was completely filled with tacks. The spur kicked out, I slipped down the pole and got my hands and arms rather severely torn.

I think the main thing here is that this is a safety measure, and I am sure that the men who climb the utility poles over the state would appreciate the protection this bill gives.

I urge the Members of the House to support the bill.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is introduced for the purpose of protecting Members of the General Assembly who may be employed in private industry in regard to unemployment compensation.

In order to understand just why this bill was introduced, maybe I should give you a little of the history of what I went through myself.

I retired from the Westinghouse Electric on April 1, 1952. Employees in the higher brackets, that is the higher wage brackets, when they retire at the age of 65, are entitled to and receive 26 weeks in each of two years unemployment compensation.

I applied for the unemployment compensation, and due to the fact that we were in Session here in 1951 over the twelve month period, they ruled that I was eligible to receive 14 weeks unemployment compensation at $30 per week. I received three checks, and then they ruled that I was not eligible to receive unemployment compensation because I was a Member of the Legislature. They told me that I had to pay back those three checks.

I appealed the case and I went before a referee. He ruled that I was not eligible. My case was similar to the Eroe case. Some of the older Members here will remember Senator Eroe applied for unemployment compensation in 1939, and they compared my case with his. I disagreed with them on that and appealed the case again to the Board of Review. I told them there was no comparison between my case and the Eroe case. Eroe was not employed at the time in industry covered by unemployment compensation. I was in an industry that was covered by unemployment compensation.

Since the Legislature does not get paid by the month or the year, we are paid by the session, I thought I was eligible for unemployment compensation. Well, they ruled that I was not eligible and then later they change their ruling and said I would be eligible for partial benefits. They left it up to the local office to decide what the amount would be, but not to exceed $7 a week.

My next move on appeal would have been to the Superior Court. If I took it to the Superior Court, I would have to hire an attorney. I did not have the money to pay an attorney so I did not appeal the case. But I did make up my mind if I came back here in 1953, to this Session, I would try to do somthing about it. That is the reason for this bill.

It means that whenever we adjourn here sine die, any Member who works in a factory or a mill or an industry covered by unemployment compensation will be eligible, in case they are off for any reason, they would be eligible to receive compensation.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to have support for the bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am for this bill and I think the gentleman from Allegheny has given us a very good and clear explanation.

The only thing I would like to say is that I hope the folks back home don't misunderstand this bill because it has in it the words that we shall be deemed unemployed as to our terms of service in the General Assembly with respect to civilian weeks after we finally adjourn.

I do not know what your experience has been, but I find I am a very busy man for months after we have adjourned trying to tell people what has happened up here, answering letters, running errands and so forth. I do not want the people in Berks County to think I am unemployed actually as a Member of this House just because we passed the sine die adjournment resolution.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, we discussed this bill in caucus and there was a great deal of opinion against it. Since Mr. Moran has made his explanation I have an entirely different outlook on the bill. I find that I did misinterpret the bill before, was under the wrong impression. Now I think Mr. Moran, after his explanation, has convinced me that I should be for this bill and I would suggest to all the Members on my side of the House that there is a reasonable explanation for this bill. It is a good bill and I think we can be for it.

The majority reqiured by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the statement that I am about to make is necessary in order to expedite the work of the day and also to bring about an early completion of this Session. The plan today is that we will work diligently here this afternoon and at a proper time there will be a recess for dinner. We will then come back from dinner and work three or four hours and do some work on this large calendar that we have.

We have many House Bills that must go over to the Senate to be referred to Senate committees and then released from Senate committees so that they can pass finally before we adjourn. We have many Senate bills on third reading on this calendar that have been amended by House Members which must go over to the Senate for concurrence and possibly there will be conference committees on amendments. So it is absolutely necessary that we all stay here for the remainder of the day and this evening, Friday and Saturday so that we can come back here Monday and wind up this Session.

I know many of you would like to go home but I am asking all of you to stay so that we will not be forced to be here four or five days next week. We want to get out of here Monday as the latest possible date. So please stay.

The reason I am making this statement is because the rumor is circulating that many Members are checking out of their hotels and going home. That must not be done because it is absolutely imperative that we finish the session. In order to do that, everyone must be here because your bills are being amended in the Senate. We have to confer with you on the amendments that are made, and if you are not here it just means that possibly some of your measures will be defeated and will not pass this Session.

SPECIAL ORDER ON SENATE BILL No. 445

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill 445, Printer's No. 424 on page 52 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, be made a special order of business immediately.

Section 6 Effective Date

This Act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker. Brevity is extremely important in debating this bill because of many other legislative matters that will come before the House this afternoon and evening.

Senate Bill 445 has been discussed and presented to the newspapers, over the radio, television and I am quite certain that every Member of the General Assembly is familar with its contents.

However, I would like to give you a brief outline of the important features of Senate Bill 445. It is better known as the City-County Consolidation bill which is required to pass at this Session of the General Assembly as far as the enabling act is concerned.

The way in which this bill is printed, and your copy will show, if it is approved by the Members of the House, I sincerely hope they will vote in favor of the bill in its present form. We will be keeping faith with the citizens of the city of Philadelphia.

The bill is bi-partisan; is is non-political and it is eminently fair for the people of our great city. It contains consolidation and abolition of certain offices and it also preserves four other offices that are bi-partisan at the present time.

There are compromises outlined in this bill. That was necessary with the historic document of the Declaration of Independence and also the Constitution of the United States. I hope if it is necessary to engage in any vigorous debate that the facts concerning this bill will be brought out properly and fairly.

This bill is also designed to preserve the two-party system which will certainly be a bulwark in preserving our democratic form of government in the city, in the Commonwealth and in the nation.

Up to this moment, if several of the Members have not paid too much attention, I would like to drive home this point. It prevents political dictatorship in the hand of one elected official, and I am not referring to any personality but the office of the Mayor of Philadelphia.

The Democratic offices that will be exempt and continued under the terms of this bill, the Consolidation Act namely, the County Commissioner's office, have representation from both parties. As a matter of fact, it is controlled at the present time by the Democratic party, and the two Democratic Commissioners are two splendid, worthy gentlemen who will carry out the duties of their offices very efficiently.

The other office that will be continued is that of the sheriff, which is a constitutional office. The present incumbent is one of the great citizens of Philadelphia and a splendid servant.

The two offices that will be continued by the Republican party is the Board of Revision of Taxes which is bi-partisan having members from both political parties, the Republican and the Democratic parties. They are appointed by the Board of Judges and they are also represented by both parties, the Common Pleas Courts of the City of Philadelphia.

The Registration Commission again is a bi-partisan office having representation from both parties and those who are now serving are very honest and capable administrators. That is why I am urging the Members on both sides of the House to pass this bill. Those four offices that will be exempt will be able to appoint the personnel—and I assure you that every one of those gentlemen will appoint men or women who are capable, conscientious and industrious in the interests of all the citizens of Philadelphia—to serve them because these executives are great leaders and have the interest of the city at heart in these four offices.

There is a sharp cleavage of opinion concerning this bill on the other side of the House. There are several Members who know that it is very much worth while, and they are going to vote their convictions and I hope that more and more will see fit to do so before this is over.

I know that the Home Rule Charter will be a factor in the discussion. It will be a very important factor in this discussion. For the benefit of the Members, I would like to say since the enactment of the Home Rule Charter in the City of Philadelphia, it has cost the citizens considerably more money in tax dollars. I am going to approximate the figure. They are rough figures; they are not accurate to the penny, but it would be approximately $35 to $40 million that the new Home Rule Charter has cost the city of Philadelphia. There will be some great claims as to what it has meant, but in dollars and cents that is a truthful statement taking all the departments into consideration.

One of our great newspapers the other evening carried a headline that quite a few Members read. It was a general statement issued by His Honor the Mayor referring to the presentation of this bill for your consideration. His Honor the Mayor has been in Harrisburg for several days. He has become acquainted with Members of the General Assembly on both sides of the House. I know the other evening when he made that statement in reference to cheap political gangsterism that he was referring to quite a few people.

Yesterday I saw an unusual scene in this House. His Honor, the Mayor, walked where I am standing. He went up to the Speaker's rostrum, and the Speaker greeted him like a gentleman. They chatted like the old buddies—I presume they are. I saw him sit at a desk with the Chairman of the Cities and Counties-First Class, Second Class and Second Class A, Mr. Ewing. They chatted as though they were old time college chums. I saw him arm in arm with one of the veteran Members of this House and the Chairman of the Committee, and they were just like members of the same family.

I can tell you about his activities in the past two days, and if he has not corrected his opinion of the Members of this General Assembly by this time, who have been extremely friendly toward him and have taken care of him, listened to his plea, I am sure that he regrets that remark. Whether or not he feels that way, I do not know, but every one is entitled to his opinion and should vote his convictions.

I hope, regardless of the activities that have been taking place behind the scenes, the Members on both sides of the House will vote in favor of Senate Bill 445 in its present form.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, before I launch into a discussion of some very important problems pertaining to this bill, which I think should be considered by the Members of the Assembly, I want to say that this bill is of considerable importance to Philadelphia.

Since the honorable gentleman made mention of the fact that our Mayor is here, our Mayor personifies in his heart and in his soul the spirit of good government in Philadelphia. I can also say that it is a good thing he is here because on the Republican side in the Hall of the House, for possibly two weeks they have had the Chairman of the Republican City Committee, William Hamilton, the brother of Representative Hamilton. They have also had the Chairman of the Board of Revision of Taxes, which is one of the boards involved here. In addition to that they have had some of the leading legal lights connected with the Republican party.

I say, as far as the Democratic party is concerned in the sponsorship of good government, it is a good thing that the Mayor, the Honorable Joseph Clark, prominent lawyer of Philadelphia who has the interest of good government at heart should be here to follow the progress of this bill which may, if it is passed, strike a terriffic blow at the progress of good government in Philadelphia since 1947.

I do not believe it is wise to discuss the appearance of people in this House, who come here in the interests of good government. I do think it is important to go into a few questions which have been current in the Press and I think merit your attention.

Of course, what you are about to do is to undo the work of two prior Assemblies, if you should vote for this bill, and to undo a Constitutional amendment which was submitted to the people of Pennsylvania.

If you vote against this bill you will undo a Charter which was prepared after considerable service and considerable time has been put in by gentlemen of prominence. Therefore, I feel that there should not be any immediate haste in the interests of so-called time which we have had to spend here, it seems in great volume for seven months, so that when a matter of vital importance to the greatest city in Pennsylvania comes up we should rush into it and dispose of it.

Yesterday I only presented the beginning of an argument which I had hoped to present at length. Fortunately, I am free today to develop it.

I want to point out to you that in order to effectuate Home Rule—which has been the model word, model language for this Assembly—Home Rule for cities, Home Rule for municipalities, Home Rule for Townships.

In order to effectuate Home Rule for Philadelphia, this Assembly in the 1949 Session and in the 1951 Session amended the Constitution of Pennsylvania to bring all county officers into the city administration.

The voters of Pennsylvania approved this amendment on November 6, 1951, that is, the voters of the entire state, not just Philadelphia.

One problem still remains. The scope of the problem is this. The voters of the state approved in 1951 the City-County consolidation amendment to the state Constitution. They took an indispensable step toward completing the consolidation of Philadelphia's City-County government which was begun, mind you, in 1854. Further action was necessary. The legislature attempted to take the next step, but the attempt failed.

You will recall in the last Session you who were over here, that after the Legislature had adjourned and the Governor, on Constitutional grounds vetoed the Kephart Bill which actually was a very different bill from the one originally introduced, the same as here. The bill you are about to vote upon is different from the original enabling Act which was introduced in the Senate by reason of an amendment, which excludes four of the Philadelphia offices.

Some citizens thought that the original bill had made real strides toward consolidation but did not go far enough; others felt that it was drawn without sufficient study of all the knotty problems involved. Still others thought that the whole matter should be handled in Philadelphia, on a home rule basis in much the same way as the Charter was framed and adopted.

Following the Governor's veto, the city council, using the broad powers of the legislative body of the City (under the Home Rule Charter) and of the county (under the 1854 Act of Consolidation) began exploring the problems of City-County consolidation. It created by ordinance an 11-member Bi-partisan Advisory Consolidation Commission, appointed jointly by the Mayor and the President of City Council.

The Commission was to make a detailed study of all the problems dealing with City-County Consolidation and the merger and the integration of former county functions into the structure of city government and the appropriate means for implementing the consolidation amendment. The Commission was directed to submit a report thereon to the Council. No time limit was set for the submission of the report, and an appropriation of $10,000 was provided for expenses. The Commission began its work in April, held public hearings in May and June, and has since held many executive sessions and eventually filed its reports in February, 1953.

While the Council had given it no directive, the Commission was guided by the goal set by most advocates of City-County Consolidation.

Briefly, they are these:

1. Simplification of local government. Re-arrangement of former county functions chiefly by their consolidation with those of the City Government or by the merger of offices performing them, should result in simplified organization. This would provide more effective service than is possible under the present hydra-headed organization.

2. A shorter ballot for the voter. Elections to ministerial offices should be replaced by appointments by responsible executives. Philadelphia now elects 11 county officers, few of whom have real policy-making responsibilities.

3. Application of uniform fiscal and budgetary controls to all agencies paid out of the city treasury, which includes these four that are being sought by exemption in this bill. This would simplify and prove Council's control over the spending of all agencies for which it makes appropriations.

4. Application of a merit system to all employes paid out of the city treasury, under two chief principles:

(1). Appointment and promotion by merit and fitness with competition to all; and

(2). The great labor principle, "Equal pay for equal work." Uniform, modern personnel practices including the prohibition of political activities and employment conditions should apply to all employes paid out of the city treasury.

The Constitutional amendment and its effect on various offices in Philadelphia was immediately challenged in the Courts of Pennsylvania heard considerable argument on the subject, and in an opinion by Chief Justice Horace Stern ruled that the County offices are now part of the City Government and that the officers and employes are bound by the City Charter provisions; their activities and functions are not changed and they will continue to perform these present duties until further streamlining of the Municipal Government as a result of the action by the General Assembly or by the City of the provisions of the Home Rule Act. And that means municipal functions, that does not mean to suddenly exclude those four offices from the provisions of the Constitutional amendment. Let me read you some of the reasoning supporting this position.

I want to read this to you because Chief Justice Horace Stern wrote some very lucid language into his decision.

> Notwithstanding the consolidation of the city affected by the Act of February 2, 1854, P. L. 21, the structure of the government of Philadelphia continually grew more and more complex and ultimately completely outmoded. Instead of a unified system there existed dual governments. Entirely different rules and regulations prevailed in the city and county offices. In the one, the employes were under civil service; in the other they were appointed without examination as to their qualifications. In the one they were barred from political activities; in the other they were wholly unrestricted in that respect. In the one the officers were compelled to seek their legal advice from the city solicitor; in the other they were allowed to have their own counsel. These anomalies flourished in spite of the fact that all the offices and departments, city and county, participated in the government of the same compact area and its inhabitants. Moreover, the personnel of the county offices were paid after the Consolidation Act of 1854, not out of any county treasury, for none such existed, but by the city, and their salaries and wages were, except in the case of elected officers, fixed and determined by the city council. It is no wonder, therefore, that over a great number of years there has been considerable popular agitation for the correction of this patchwork system and its uneconomic division of functions, and it was presumably in response to that agitation that the city-county consolidation amendment, the First-Class City Home Rule Act and the Home Rule Charter came into being, bringing in their train the problems that have given rise to the present appeals.

Let me read you the final paragraph of Judge Stern's decision which continues to show the necessity for the type of enabling act which was introduced in the Senate.

> There seems to exist an erroneous impression on the part of the plaintiff in all these actions regarding one of the sections of the Home Rule Act which forbids the city to exercise power contrary to powers granted by acts of the General Assembly which are applicable in every part of the Commonwealth or to all the cities of the Commonwealth. It is argued that because plaintiffs perform their respective functions and duties in pursuance of general laws which impose similar or identical duties upon officers holding corresponding positions throughout the Commonwealth, the city is thereby shorn of all power to interfere with them or their employes. Nothing could be further from the truth, it being abundantly clear that the limitations of power referred to in section 18 concern only laws in relation to substantive matters of State-wide concern, such as the health, safety, security and general welfare of all the inhabitants of the State, and not to matters affecting merely the personnel and administration of the offices local to Philadelphia and which are of no concern to citizens elsewhere. Any other conclusion would reduce the charter to a mere scrap of paper and make the much heralded grant of Home Rule to Philadelphia an illusion and a nullity.

The Advisory Consolidation Commission filed its report on February 9, 1953, and I would like to present to you the general comment which was made by the members of the commission.

First let me call your attention to the type of personnel who composed the committee. This committee has four prominent republicans, one of whom was a candidate for Superior Court Judge, the Honorable Nochem S. Winnet, who served on the municipal court bench in Philadelphia for ten years. Another member of the commission Robert T. McCracken, a former partner of Justice Owen J. Roberts of the United State Supreme Court. Another member of the commission was former State Senator John W. Lord, Jr., who is now a City Councilman. Another member is one of the most prominent lawyers in the city, Thomas B. K. Ringe, an important republican lawyer.

It aiso contains Lewis M. Stevens, who is today a city councilman; Richardson Dilworth; the Honorable John W. Lord a member of the bench; former United States Senator Francis J. Myers; Mr. John M. Patterson, fromer Member of this Assembly; the Honorable Samuel Rose and a former State Senator of Pennsylvania and the Honorable Harry Shapiro.

You can count on the calibre of these men that they gave sincere study to the problems that were involved in this ordinance and this plan which they were to prepare for the use of our City council.

This Commission was confronted by the decision of Judge Stern, which I referred to a moment ago, and in response to that decision and in response to the case of Lennox vs. Clark, which is the case involved, they filed their report and they set forth the pattern of reorganization which is contained in their report. They also set forth an ordinance which city council was to adopt.

They also unanimously set forth an enabling act which was to be presented in the Legislature. The report was accepted by City Council. The ordinance which they recommended was introduced and is now on the final passage calendar of the Philadelphia City Council. The Enabling Act for the Assembly was introduced in the Senate, known as Senate Bill 445, which is now before us as amended. In the House it was introduced as House Bill 1028.

The report on the Advisory Consolidation Commission, as I pointed out, was adopted by City Council, and the Enabling Act now before you as amended. I referred yesterday to the newspapers which published a recent decision of Common Pleas Court No. 2 of Philadelphia relating to the Board of Prison Inspection which was not referred to in the Supreme Court decision made by Chief Justice Horace Stern because no argument was presented with regard to this Board. Yet the press reports that the Court of Common Pleas No. 2, consisting of Judges Vincent Carroll and Edwin O. Lewis, decided that the Board of Prison Inspectors is also bound by the Constitutional amendment which was a step in the completion of home rule for Philadelphia. They held that only another constitutional amendment can change the situation relating to the status of the board.

Bear this in mind. Here is an act which is presented to you containing four exemptions from the Constitutional amendment which included them in the city merger. How can this Assembly ignore a Constitutional amendment and pass a bill which would place these four offices in a separate category?

The decision by Common Pleas Court No. 2, even though they erred, as Representative Hamilton referred to, in a prior case a month or so ago relating I believe to a mercantile tax where they were following certain other decisions which might have given some basis for that, followed a recent decision of the Supreme Court, Lennox vs. Clark, and ruled that it is impossible for this Assembly to do the job of excluding the four offices, that the only way it can be done is by a new Constitutional amendment which will require two sessions of the Assembly and will require the submission of the matter to a vote of the electorate. As a matter of fact, just today in one of the amendments which was presented, you voted against submitting it to the electorate. That was an amendment which was submitted by my colleague, Representative Alexander.

I now point out to you that this is a matter of serious consequence, to the Assembly, to the Commonwealth and to the City. I cannot see how you can possibly ignore the work which has been done by this Assembly and the prior Assembly and by the people of Philadelphia in trying to build up home rule, and in trying to develop a progressive community for the benefit of the Commonwealth and suddenly destroy all the work by taking out of the whole picture the Board of Revision of Taxes and the Registration Commission, which the Supreme Court has said are included in that very Act of Consolidation which was designed to merge the city and the county offices by the approval of the consolidation amendment on November 6, 1951, when automatically all these county offices became city offices.

Now this Assembly is about to consider the exclusion of these offices which were included. I cannot see how the Assembly can act upon it.

I call your attention to the fact that the Press, particularly the editorials in the Philadelphia papers, and I think I ought to read you one of these editorials to give you an idea of just how strongly the Press feels on the subject.

If any of you have read the Philadelphia Inquirer on page 26, you will see that the last paragraph—I will cut it down to that—states, "the sensible thing for the people in the Assembly to do is to give up their plot"—it refers to a group of persons who are interested in killing the Philadelphia Charter—"and instead of passing the amended bill, they should restore it to its original form upholding the Charter and ending political rule in the county offices."

I think in good conscience you cannot possibly vote for this particular bill as it is now presented to you, and I submit that this is a proper subject for a motion which could be made to consider the constitutionality by this Assembly. I hope that you wil vote against this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the issues involved in this bill are as simple as they are fundamental. The purposes involved in this bill are political. I have every sympathy with political leaders who desire to create political organizations. I have every sympathy with party workers who bear the heat and burden of the day.

I want to say to my Democratic friends in this Hall, in Philadelphia, in Pittsburgh, in every corner of this state, that they cannot build a political organization and make it stick if part of the foundation is broken promises. If there is anything that is basic and fundamental in our system of government, it is that we keep faith. We may make an unfortunate promise, but a promise to the people is a promise we have no right to discard.

The gentleman from Philadelphia who has just addressed you has called attention to the fact that Philadelphia went to the people of Pennsylvania and asked for the Home Rule Charter, the Home Rule Amendment. Then the people of Philadelphia asked this Legislature to give them the right to frame a charter within the confines of the Home Rule Amendment. So we passed an Act in conformity with that Charter and that amendment, and that Act read in simple language as follows: "The purpose of this act is to carry out the intent and purpose of Article XV, Section 1 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, known as the Home Rule Amendment and Article XIV, Section 8 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, known as the City Consolidation Amendment."

The Home Rule Charter gave to the City Council certain privileges, certain rights to consolidate County-City government. That was a promise; that was a compact. The people of Pennsylvania are part of that promise and they are part of that compact. This Legislature is part of that promise and that compact. The people of Philadelphia on both sides of the political fence are a part of that promise and that compact.

That promise and that compact, in which there were all these parties, said the City Council should have jurisdiction over the offices that it is proposed to remove from their jurisdiction by the pending measure. Remove them, why? In order that we may build—"we," the Democrats—a more efficient political organization, and that the Republican Leadership may have more party workers.

I simply repeat to the Members of this General Assembly from the statewide point of view that neither the Republican party nor the Democratic party is going to get anywhere in the long run no matter how many political workers they may have if they base their program upon repudiated promises.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support Senate Bill 445 and I wish to state my reasons. Being a minority Member of the Democratic party from Philadelphia, I am supporting this bill solely because I honestly believe in a good two-party system. The history of the two-party system in the United States is that it has proven to be the best system that we know of in the world.

I have witnessed the fact in Philadelphia that we no longer have a militant two-party system. I do know this. It is my honest conviction that good government can only be had and will continue to be had by a strong, virile, aggressive minority party. That is my honest conviction and that is the reason I am supporting this bill.

Mr. Speaker, there has been much confusion about this bill. My learned colleague on the other side points out to you that the constitutionality of this bill may be bad. Farnkly I am a layman; I am not an attorney. I think that he is presupposing what the courts might want to do.

I fully expect to be criticized by the Philadelphia administration as well as the Philadelphia Press. Of course that is their privilege under the freedom of the Press. With that I find no fault. But I do not think they should print articles from which you can take ambiguous meanings. I will not quote the article, I will be brief and tell you.

In last week's paper there was an article accusing a bipartisan group of Philadelphia politicians of trying to scuttle the charter. Personally I do not know, I have never met formally, socially or politically the present Republican leaders of the city of Philadelphia. Therefore I can honestly say this to you that no Member, none of the Republican leaders of Philadelphia, or any member of their party has approached me directly for support.

Another article in this morning's paper, a Philadelphia paper, quotes that three Democratic Members of the House, allied with County Commissioner McHenry were opposing this bill.

First of all I want to say this briefly that I know Commissioner McHenry, he being in the top echelons of our party in Philadelphia, I know him and I respect him and I like his stand on this measure. I can say this honestly to you, neither he nor any member of his staff have directly approached me and asked me to support this measure. I am doing it purely because I believe in a two-party system, and I believe a good way to continue good government is to have a strong, aggressive, virile minority party.

I can say this to you ladies and gentlemen with all sincerity, I come from the industrial district, Greater Kensington in Philadelphia composed largely of industrial workers.

Neither my colleague nor I have received one protest against this bill. Not one protest. I think they have confidence in our honesty and integrity.

I am pleading for your vote on this bill for the two-party system. I firmly believe in that. To verify that, throughout the country you will note that we have good government in many cities, states and nationally under various party measures, and I do not know why we cannot have a continuation of the two-party system in Philadelphia.

The following remarks will be directed to my minority colleagues on this side of the House. It may possibly arouse a doubt in their minds that I am leaving the party line in the support of this bill. Frankly that is farthest from my mind. I have been a Member of this Assembly, both majority and minority, for four Sessions. I have always followed the party line. I urge you all in the interest of the two-party system in which I am very much interested to support this bill, and by supporting this bill I do honestly believe it will be a skeleton two-party system in Philadelphia.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support Senate Bill 445 and do so as the Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of one of the largest Philadelphia wards, the thirty-ninth. I wish it clearly understood at this time that I have no quarrel, nor is it my intention to embarrass the administration of the city of Philadelphia.

I believe in good sound government, something that I have for 39 years been fighting for. In all that time I have never been a political jobholder although I do not have any objection to political jobholders.

I also believe that to have good sound government you must also have a strong two-party system, and Senate Bill 445 is a step in that direction. If passed it will aid not only the administration of Philadelphia but all the citizens of that great city.

Much has been said about political patronage and that elected ward committeemen and women would receive appointments to jobs in the four offices that this bill exempts form the City Charter. Just who are these committeemen and women that the opponents of this bill called such un-American and unsportsmen-like names. They are the men and women selected by the voters of their respective divisions to represent them. They are elected representatives of their people by secret ballot on election day just as you and I, Mr. Speaker, and Members of this House, and in exactly the same manner that any mayor, governor, or president is elected.

If I were doing the hiring, I know of no better recommendation. The committeemen and women are the one class of elected officials that are closest to their people.

Mr. Speaker, in my time I have known thousands of these committeemen, some leaders in their places of worship, business and professional men, veterans, labor representatives, others from all walks of life.

I firmly believe in a two-party system with patronage for them that we continue in the American way. If you destroy the representatives of the two-party system, you will then leave the door open to the infiltration of the pinks and reds who will gladly take over without patronage.

There are only two issues in this bill. Are you in favor of the two-party system for good government? If you want it vote "Yes." If you do not, vote "No." Are you in favor of patronage? If you are, vote "Yes." If you are not, vote "No."

Mr. Speaker, I was very happy last night to learn that a certain high official of the city of Philadelphia was in Harrisburg. I knew that when that man was in Harrisburg he was here for the benefit of the little fellow whom he loves so well. I was dismayed this morning to find the gentleman was outside the Hall of the House with telegrams, grabbing everybody, trying to get them to vote against this bill.

I was so surprised to see that that man from Philadelphia should be up against those little fellows, that I left this Hall of the House. We had a very bitter argument. I wanted to know why he was up here, one who always held those little fellows close to his breast. I found out this morning why.

The Philadelphia Inquirer of Thursday morning, July 23, which is this present day, on page 6, states that good government of Philadelphia is holding out patronage to defeat this measure and giving it to none other than the partner of that city official who came here today buttonholing his people.

As Jim Lovett says, "let's be fair." Is it proper, is it right to hand out this patronage and deal in patronage in the upper brackets and consider it a crime in the lower brackets. I do not think so and I do not think any Member of this House does.

I ask everyone in this House to vote for this bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, being an attorney I want to say this will be a very brief statement. I direct my remarks primarily to the majority side of the House. We had a pretty long Session this year, and one of the reasons for such a lengthy Session I believe was that at times the majority had difficulty mustering 105 votes.

I want to remind the gentleman on the majority side that one of the reasons you did not have a workable majority at times was because there were so many Democratic Representatives from the city of Philadelphia. It has been a long time since it happened, but this year the people of Philadelphia have risen and opposed the regime that was in control of Philadelphia for so many years.

With the help of the reform government and with the help of the two newspapers in Philadelphia, they elected 36 Democrats from Philadelphia to come up to the House of Representatives. The people in Philadelphia were sick and tired of the old regime.

I am personally opposed to the bill. Mr. Hamilton said in his remarks that this was a non-partisan, non-political bill and that voting for this bill would be keeping faith with the citizens of Philadelphia.

Beside the politicians and the ones who are personally interested in this bill from a selfish standpoint, I challenge Mr. Hamilton to tell me whether or not he has received any correspondence from any of his constituents saying that they are in favor of this bill as amended.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I would like to reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, by saying that yesterday afternoon I received one communication from an ordinary citizen who did not live in the city of Philadelphia asking me to be opposed to this bill.

If there is one person—and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, knows this—who has taken a very decided, unequivocal stand on this situation, I have, and despite the fact that I have debated it on almost every public platform in Philadelphia, I have not been reprimanded, criticized, nor condemned by an ordinary decent, upright citizen of the city of Philadelphia, and as God is my judge that is the truth, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, let me be the first upright citizen to criticize Mr. Hamilton.

To close my remarks I want to remind you Members on the majority side that the vote for this bill will insure the majority of Representatives from Philadelphia being Democrats. I think it will be virtually impossible to elect a majority on the Republican side from Philadelphia to come up here in the next election.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I am merely going to give you the names of some Philadelphia organizations that feel this bill should be voted against, and they are organizations of size. It may very well be that none of these organizations have offices in the 21st Ward which is represented by Mr. Hamilton, but here is the Philadelphia Federation of Women's Clubs and Allied Organizations. Mrs. George F. Applan, the President, writes me that the executive board of the Philadelphia Federation has a membership of 145 clubs listing 130,000 women.

I want to call your attention to the fact that at the public hearing there were a number of people present who presented their views in support of the bill after it was introduced. Some of the leading institutions were represented, the Citizens Charter Committee, the Greater Philadelphia Movement—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to finish my list and then if the gentleman from Philadelphia wants to question me, I will try to answer his questions.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia—

The SPEAKER. Mr. Hamilton, the gentleman has not yielded to you. The Chair cannot recognize the gentleman at this time.

Mr. TOLL. May I proceed, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order. He may proceed.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the League of Women Voters from Philadelphia, the League of Women Voters of Pennsylvania, the Philadelphia Industrial Union Council, the CIO, the Chamber of Commerce, the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, the Citizens Budget Committee, the Committee of Seventy, the Pennsylvania Economy League, the Civic Club of Philadelphia, the Philadelphia Committee on City Policy, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Knit Goods Union, and also represented by Reverend T. Robert Washington, Pastor of the Second Baptist Church.

Let me call your attention to the fact that this work by civic groups has been going on for 25 years. The first time I entered politics in 1930 I was interested in the Charter movement for Philadelphia. Now that we have gotten to the point where we are about to complete it, its entire destiny lies in your hands.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, my only purpose for requesting the gentleman to yield momentarily a minute ago was simply this, I did not receive a single communication, written, verbal or by telephone, from those 130,000 women connected with that one particular organization. All the other organizations that he has cited apparently represent several hundred thousand people which substantiates the fact that if there was any real "grass roots" interest in this particular matter, they would certainly have flooded my home and the Legislature up here, because they know my position on the matter.

Mr. Speaker, one sentence in closing. It is the duty of the Legislature to pass the enabling Act for the Home Rule City Charter. Senate Bill 445 is the enabling Act, and it is good legislation for all the people of Philadelphia, and I sincerely hope that at this moment the gentleman on the other side of the House will permit a roll call and that we vote on the bill and vote for its passage.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I am not going into a protracted discussion. I merely want to say a word or two about the statements that were just made by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

First, as to the fact that people have not written to him. It has been well known in the city that his position was not favorable to the Charter. I do not doubt that the people represented by these organizations believe it is futile to write to him. If they had written to him, do you think he would have changed his views? He has been unequivocably one of the outstanding people who has been opposed to this program.

Secondly, let me call your attention to the fact that the enabling Act is vital. These amendments are crippling the enabling Act. If you had permitted my amendment yesterday to go through and pass on the enabling Act as it stood, we would have been able to continue the reorganization of Philadelphia. By excluding these four offices and putting them in Section 5, you are destroying the entire Act. Therefore, we must vote against the Act because you are destroying it. It will be declared unconstitutional and we will be stuck for an additional two years until the next Assembly.

That is the reason why I urge you to vote against this bill.

There is no severance clause in this bill, and this is the reason why I urge you to vote against it. There is no severance clause in this bill. If they had sent it back and perhaps provided a severance clause, saying that the four offices are excluded it would not interfere with the Enabling Act. That would have been one thing, but there is no severance cluase here. Here is a bill which is no good, because of these amendments, and therefore, you should vote against it because you are not accomplishing anything by trying to pass it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. TOLL, PARLANTE and ALEXANDER.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. JOHNSON offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 23, 1953.

It was a colorful, lively, yet impressive ceremony in the Hall of the House, the new Caucus Room and the Cafeteria last evening, where the spirit of gayety and friendliness predominated. The entertainment was excellent and appropriate. The speeches were from the heart—the gifts were elaborate—and, the final feature, an abundance of fine food, was much relished.

The preparation and planning of all these wonderful things required imagination, skill and hard work. Stuart Helm possessed the imagination and skill as the tremendous success of the affair so well attests, and he possessed the willingness to supply the hard work. He labored many, many hours in arranging the program, providing the entertainment and selecting the gifts.

His good wife, Geraldine, joined in the task and spent many more hours wrapping the gifts in the attractive manner they appeared last night.

The sum total of their labors was an evening of truly great entertainment for us and for our guests. It was an evening that all of us will remember for the remainder of our lives. It was an evening when we forgot all differences and together enjoyed fine things and enjoyed each other; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives individually and on behalf of our guests, extend our thanks to Stuart and Geraldine Helm for an evening made magnificent by their industry and talents as host and hostess; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be certified by the Chief Clerk and delivered to Stuart and Geraldine Helm.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the words of the resolution very aptly express the feeling of everyone here as to the success of the party last evening. What it says about "Stu" Helm working many long hours and planning such a delightful affair is very true.

That which was said about his wife helping to plan this affair and helping to buy the gifts and wrap the gifts is also very true, because I know from own personal knowledge and observation of the job they did that it was certainly a job very, very well done and was deeply appreciated by everybody.

Therefore, on behalf of the House, it is my pleasure to present a gift to Mrs. Helm for her efficient efforts.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Armstrong rise so that we may all see her and congratulate her personally for what she did in helping her husband. The Chair thanks Mrs. Helm very much.

Mr. JOHNSON. We cannot forget the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm. We also have a little gift for him. I would say it is a Zippo lighter with a McKean County oil derrick on it and his signature engraved. I would like to present this to Mr. Helm.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, this certainly comes as a great surprise to me and I am sure to Mrs. Helm. I want to say that whatever enjoyment you might have gotten from the party is sufficient repayment to me. I enjoyed all the work that was entailed and enjoyed the party immensely myself. I do want to thank the membership of the House for the splendid resolution and for the gift to Mrs. Helm. I extend her thanks also. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. Thank you, Mr. Helm, for making our ceremonies a success.

NOT VOTING—1

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. GEER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up from page 23 of the calendar, House Bill 631, bill on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 631, entitled:

An Act to amend the introductory paragraph of Section 10 of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 955) entitled as amended "An act to promote public health safety morals and welfare by declaring the necessity of creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as housing authorities to engage in slum clearance and to undertake projects to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income providing for the organization of such housing authorities defining their powers and duties providing for the exercise of such powers including the acquisition of property by purchase gift or eminent domain the renting and selling of property and including borrowing money issuing bonds and other obligations and giving security therefor prescribing the remedies of obligees of housing authorities authorizing housing authorities to enter into agreements including agreements with the United States the Commonwealth and political subdivisions and municipalities thereof defining the application of zoning sanitary and building laws and regulations to projects built or maintained by such housing authorities exempting the property and securities of such housing authorities from taxation and imposing duties and conferring powers upon the State Planning Board and certain other State officers and departments" by requiring authorities to submit the question of the proposed acquisition of any real estate to a vote of the electors within the territorial limits of the municipality or township where the real estate to be acquired is situate

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I understand there is going to be considerable debate on this particular bill, especially from my colleagues on the Democratic side of the House, and I understand there might be quite a bit of debate on the other side.

I am perfectly satisfied to begin if that is the way the Speaker would like it.

The SPEAKER. It is not the desire of the Speaker, it is the desire of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geer, who called the bill up.

If the gentleman will withdraw calling the bill up, the Chair will pass the bill over.

What does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to do with this bill?

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I do not have complete say about it. There are other sponsors. I would like to confer with them. We do have a full House and we need a full House on this bill. I would like to have a moment to talk with them.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I would be glad to yield to Mr. Geer so that he can start this debate.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, to cooperate with the Members of the House—because we do request all the Members to help us on our side and undoubtedly the other side, too—I will merely say that this bill as prepared was attempted to be amended several days ago to confine the bill to Allegheny County. It was defeated by its opponents, not "defeated," it was merely delayed in that manner so the House had to pass it over.

It is now agreed that it will be amended in the Senate to provide only for a referendum on federal housing in Allegheny County. In other words, when federal housing administration purchases land, the municipality in that area would be permitted to vote on whether or not they would approve placement of federal housing in that area.

I will stop there unless some one else wants to prolong the debate.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GEER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I understand that an attempt was made to amend this bill to only include Allegheny County and it could not be made in the House. Is that true?

Mr. GEER. It was attempted in the House, and in cooperation with the Speaker, and upon agreement, when there was debate, we passed it over.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, when was that attempt made?

Mr. GEER. Yesterday or the day before, I am not certain.

Mr. SARRAF. Would the gentleman be more specific and know whether it was yesterday.

Mr. GEER. Yes, I guess that is right.

These days are awfully long.

Mr. SARRAF. We realize that, and this is prolonging also.

Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman not amend this bill three days ago and we permitted him to amend it at that time?

Mr. GEER. This bill was amended several days ago to clarify what the original intention of the bill was. That is all that was done. There was a defect and it was corrected.

Mr. SARRAF. In other words, the gentleman means we were courteous enough to permit him to amend it two or three days ago?

Mr. GEER. I think everybody in this House is courteous about permitting correctional amendments.

Mr. SARRAF. Correctional amendments. The gentleman means by that then, there was nothing other than correctional amendments in his original amendments as of two to three days ago? Is that what the gentleman wants to tell this minority?

Mr. GEER. There was no intention of confining it to Allegheny County until several days ago if that is what Mr. Sarraf wants to know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. I thank the gentleman.

Mr Speaker, several days ago we permitted the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geer, to amend this bill. At that time there were more than just correctional amendments.

We anticipated then that this bill would be in shape to debate just as we intended to do today. If the gentleman had intended to limit this to just Allegheny County, I am certain that could have been done very readily two or three days ago.

In the amendments, as you will note in the bill on your desk, the underscored says specifically "the municipality or township where the real estate to be acquired is situated". That is more than just a correctional amendment.

We intended to make this bill a definite issue and debate the bill. We are prepared to do it. We ask the sponsor to please pass it over until after we recess and come back when we are fresh. We will be very glad—and we have speakers to whom I will yield who will be very glad to debate this issue.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, previously, the other side has used every method of delaying action that could be used on this bill. I feel that we have sufficient votes. If they desire to impose upon the House and continue prolonged debate, I do not think all these questions and this preliminary talk was even necessary to delay the House this long.

If they insist on it, certainly. We can only ask that those that are supporting the bill come back and help us to pass the bill. We do not want to impose on everyone, we do feel that it is a very essential thing to Allegheny County and to the suburban areas of Allegheny County.

There have not been any Allegheny County bills, or very few of them, in this Session of the Legislature. I guess I may speak for my colleagues in saying if they insist on debating the bill, we will be willing to pass it over if that is necessary if they want prolonged debate.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 631, Printer's No. 723

was passed over at the request of Mr. GEER.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, House Bill 1536 will be passed over.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I object to passing the bill over.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is there anyone opposed to this bill except the gentleman from Blair?

The SPEAKER. Are there any other objections to this bill's being passed over? The Chair hears objections.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, then let her roll.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the Chair hears objections to passing over House Bill 1536, Printer's No. 713.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, are we now on House Bill 1536?

The SPEAKER. We are now on 1536. There was objection from the floor as to the bills being passed over.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate someone on this bill who knows how much it will cost or how much the appropriation is on this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Minority Leader.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I see the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee over there. He can answer the interrogation.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, it carries an appropriation of $500,000.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Wood.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOOD. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Lancaster, if it is not revealing any secrets, if this is not one of the items in the budget that was mandated by the Republican caucus to be eliminated from the budget?

Mr. WOOD. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. That is all, Mr. Speaker. I ask the Members of the House on this side to vote down this bill on that ground of being an economy measure.

Mr. GUTENDORF. Mr. Speaker, there has been a crying need in this state for many years for this type of health service. I would like to speak for this bill.

Mr. Speaker, medical science notably as the result of long sustained and factual studies at Yale, Johns Hopkins University, and many clinics both in the United States and elsewhere has established the existence of the disease of alcoholism. The American Medical Association, the Pennsylvania Medical Society and the societies of many of our Pennsylvania counties such as Philadelphia, Lackawanna, Allegheny, Erie have concurred with those medical findings.

Today in these United States there are forty states that have set up agencies with appropriations to treat the alcoholic, to use money for preventive medicine, I would call it, and they are doing a splendid job. Such states as Connecticut, which appropriates approximately $265,000 yearly; Massachusetts, Utah, the Carolinas, California and many others including the District of Columbia appropriate $100,000 yearly. They have all recognized alcoholism as a disease and have aprpoached this problem from a scientific medical viewpoint for the good of their commonwealths and the good of their states.

Today in Pennsylvania it is recognized by the medical profession that there are approximately 58,000 alcoholics. They also recognize from a social science standpoint and from an economic standpoint that to take those alcoholics—or "drunks" in many cases they are called—and arrest them and haul them into court, put them in a workhouse, or feed them, clothe them and doctor them, costs more to the state and to the individual municipaity than it would to provide these clinics where they could be cured.

There are, as I said, around 58,000 alcoholics in Pennsylvania. Yet today, Mr. Speaker, there are only two places in Pennsylvania where those unfortunate people can go for treatment one is St. Luke's Hospital in Philadelphia and the other an out-patient clinic in Pittsburgh. These facilities are hopelessly incapable of coping with the situation.

I do not like to bring this in but I think it is pertinent. I think it is germane to the situation that we here in Pennsylvania have a liquor monopoly. The state, through its general fund, receives approximately $175 to $200 million a biennium, and it seems unfortunate if we cannot appropriate the sum in this bill to provide the treatment and the care and try to cure those alcoholics in our state.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be very seriously considered by all Members of this House on both sides and that we vote for this bill and pass it tonight.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am in thorough agreement with the case as stated by the gentleman from Luzerne. If the majority party desires to defeat this bill, that is its business. As for the minority party, it does not desire to be on record as being opposed to this type of legislation. I hope that every Member of the minority party present will support this bill.

Mr. RICHTER. Mr. Speaker, in all due respect to my colleague, Mr. Auker, this bill regardless of efficiencies and economies deals with human beings, not dollars and cents. Please vote for it.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if this money is going to be expended for studies or whether it is going to establish hospitals for treatment?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne answer that question for the gentleman from Huntingdon?

Mr. GUTENDORF. Mr. Speaker, in the title of the bill the Act provides for the study of the problems of alcoholism, the treatment, commitment, rehabilitation and protection of those people.

"Section 4, Hospitals and clinical facilities. The Secretary of Health shall contract for or establish such hospital and clinical facilities as are necessary to care properly for those persons addicted to excessive use of alcoholic beverages."

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, that partially answers the question, but the gentleman has stated that all of the states' institutions have already profited by their studies. I see no reason why we should expend it for further study. If it is for hospitals, I am very much for it.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I feel we should all support this bill because I think with a $200 million liquor industry in Pennsylvania, it is no more than right that we should expend $500,000 on the care of the alcoholics that result from that industry.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise to oppose the bill particularly, but there are a few questions that I would like to ask of the sponsor or any of the sponsors who are willing to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GUTENDORF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask, is the gentleman from Luzerne County?

Mr. GUTENDORF. Yes, I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have hospitals in Luzerne County?

Mr. GUTENDORF. Yes, we have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, do they take care of alcoholic cases in Luzerne County in any of the hospitals?

Mr. GUTENDORF. Mr. Speaker, I know of many cases where the hospitals do hospitalize alcoholics if they can pay the prevailing rate. I also know of many cases in Luzerne County, and from the record of case histories of this state, that there are many alcoholics who are thrown into jails, or die in the gutters and the alleys not being able to get proper treatment.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman does admit that some of them are taken into the hospitals?

Mr. GUTENDORF. Yes, I do, Mr. Speaker. I admit that they can be hospitalized. However, they can be hospitalized, as I said before, if they can pay their way and if there is room. I will say this I think I am free in saying hospital superintendents in various hospitals do not like to take in alcoholics who might be in the throes of alcoholism and who will make loud noises and might have to be put into wards where there might be maternity cases. They do not like to take them in. I can state that from the experience I have had in talking to various superintendents of hospitals.

Mr. LOVETT. Would the gentleman have any idea how many alcoholics are in hospitals throughout the state of Pennsylvania?

Mr. GUTENDORF. Mr. Speaker, some months ago I spoke in Harrisburg, at the Forum, with a doctor who has a sanitarium in the suburbs of Philadelphia. It is a sanitarium where you have to be either in the upper middle class or well-to-do or your family has to have money to put you in there for treatment. In discussing the situation with him, he told me that many, many cases in their experience. the people who are alcoholics usually are without money. They have spent it. And in many cases, people who might start out in Pittsburgh wind up in New York City, or start out in Philadelphia and wind up in Chicago. I am talking about alcoholism as a disease. I am not talking about the social drinker, as probably many of us are, who can do down to the hotel and drink a cocktail or two before our dinner, and I am not talking about the semi-occasional drinker who might go out and get drunk. I am talking about alcoholism as a disease where one drink is like an allergy. After they are started they wind up on skid row, in the Bowery, in hospitals, in jails or the cemetery.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wants to make a speech, I will sit down until he is ready to be interrogated.

Mr. GUTENDORF. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry, I apologize. I was sort of carried away by my statement. I am sorry, Mr. Lovett.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman a fair question. Does the gentleman have any idea of the number of alcoholics who are being taken care of in our hospitals in Pennsylvania today?

Mr. GUTENDORF. Mr. Speaker, I only have the Department of Health's figures when I state there are, as I mentioned before, 58,000 known alcoholics in Pennsylvania and there are only two hospitals devoted to their care. They are St. Luke's Hospital in Philadelphia and an out-patient clinic in Pittsburgh. Beyond that, outside of private rest homes, as they are called, or sanitariums, I know of no other facilities. I would say probably there are alcoholics hospitalized tonight in hospitals in Pennsylvania but I do not have any figures on it. I do know that the Department of Health feels that there are not enough rooms or beds or facilities for the alcoholics in Pennsylvania today.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman tell me if they refuse to give free care to these alcoholics in these hospitals? We appropriate so much money every year, you know, for free care to the hospitals? I wonder if they allow the alcoholics in under that.

Mr. GUTENDORF. Mr. Speaker, I discussed that two years ago. I do not like to go into ancient history. I proposed a bill two years ago that would require the state-aided hospitals to set aside so many beds, a small number, a small percentage, for the treatment of alcoholics. I felt that state-aided hospitals were being aided with appropriations and the least they could do was to try to help this problem. However, the bill did not get very far. It did not become a law.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I admit that nobody knows how many are being taken care of in the hospitals today. I know of a hospital in Pittsburgh where they send these alcoholics. At least I know of some who have been there and they are cured—of course, I do not know whether they are ever cured, but they come in and they go out and they do take care of them.

The point that I want to make in this debate is, while I am not opposed to this bill. I want to know whether or not the hospitals that we give state aid to in this state refuse to accept alcoholics as free guests. If they refuse to accept them, then I do not think they should get the appropriation, because that is what the appropriaion is for. If we have not appropriated enough, if we need this extra money here to do the job, why do we not appropriate to these hospitals that we are now appropriating to and tell them that they must take care of these cases. That is the point that I wanted to bring out in this particular bill. I think the Members of the House should give that some consideration.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I did not care to get into this discussion because I felt that last Session we passed a bill attempting to do something about addicts in the alcoholic field.

This alcoholic problem is one of the greatest problems in the United States. I am proud and glad to see that we find money enough to start this sort of endeavor in our great state. I think this move is a start and I hope it can continue to eliminate or attempt to eliminate and cure a disease that society has today.

We could go into a discussion about this. I notice this is a bill which sets up a system in attempting to do something. Five hundred thousand dollars may only begin the movement. I think honestly this is one of the best bills you are passing with regard to this type of condition throughout our state.

To answer some of Mr. Lovett's questions, hospitals normally, especially those that are aided by our state appropriations, do not have facilities of the type wherein they could take alcoholics because normally the alcoholic who is accutely ill will probably cause disturbance for others.

In Pittsburgh, as Mr. Lovett has said, we have St Francis Hospital which has a psychiatric section, and St. Francis Hospital does take care of some of these people, a good many of them, but a good many are mental cases. The appropriation which is given to St. Francis is not given to take care of alcoholics.

The psychiatric branch or portion of the hospital is maintained practically by the hospital and by the patients who can pay. A great number enter and cannot pay and are treated, especially if they are emergencies.

I do not think there is anybody in this Hall that does not realize the problem and read about it, and sometimes we ought to really think very vividly, and we should be ashamed of a condition brought on by ourselves.

If we go into the right direction, I think this is going to be one of the best steps taken and I hope it can continue. I hope it can pass the Senate. In the future I hope they can go forward with the study and cure of this dreaded condition.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be put in the position before this House of not having every consideration for human welfare and for my fellow human beings.

I have talked economy throughout the entire session. I meant every wordd I said. While this study may be needed and possibly it is needed, although it seems to be somewhat inconsistent legislation, I still believe that if the proper economies are made under the proper departments, the sum of $500,000 can be found without an extra appropriation for it.

That is my reason for opposing this bill.

Mr. ZIEGLER. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that I have to oppose this bill because I am very sympathetic with alcoholics. But so long as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a monopoly on the liquor business in Pennsylvania, I feel as though I must oppose this bill.

I would like to know what the Commonwealth proposes to do after they reputedly cure alcoholics. Are they going to turn them loose again and have liquor available at several street corners and the several state stores?

I am willing to vote not only for this appropriation but for a much greater appropriation if and when the Commonwealth gets out of the booze business.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 955 as follows:

An Act to add Section 9.1 to the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by authorizing payment by the Department of Public Assistance of unpaid debts due for rent food and groceries by receipts of general assistance imposing duties on county boards of assistance

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2051) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" is hereby amended by adding after Section 9 thereof a new section to read as follows

Section 9.1 Nonpayment of Certain Debts Any landlord or merchant to whom debts are owed for rent food or groceries by a recipient of general assistance which recipient has refused or neglected to pay such debts may request compensation for the amount of such debts due at the time of the request from the county board of assistance having jurisdiction in the case in which the request is made Upon investigation as to the validity of such request the county board of assistance shall transmit its information and findings to the Department of Public Assistance which department shall pay such claims to the person to whom the debts is owed from future grants of general assistance which shall become due to the delinquent debtor if it shall conclude from the information and findings received from the county board of assistance that the claim is proper and unpaid

Any recurrence of valid claims for payment of debts due for rent food or groceries provided for by this section shall at the option of the Department of Public Assistance be due cause for denial of any future grants of general assistance to the person whose neglect or refusal to pay such debts has caused such claims to be made

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to explain this bill briefly. This bill has to do with recipients of the Department of Public Assistance. It only covers general assistance which is just ten percent of the people in the state who are receiving hardly enough. Only ten percent of the fines are going to this ten percent.

We have a condition wherein numbers of people on the relief roll who do not accept their responsibility and who spend their moneys and have nothing left by the end of the month, who go to their merchant, their grocer, their meat man and ask for credit.

These people go to their merchant and ask for an extension of credit until their next check is received at which time they promise to pay. Too often the next check never appears to arrive, and the merchant, being the same as myself or most any one in this House, knows that it is a poor risk.

Nevertheless, there is a wife and children involved; he extends the credit and suffers this loss. There is no way in which he can collect this money once he has lost it.

The same is true of a landlord. He has a tenant in his house. He can move them out through the sheriff of course, but he will not for the very obvious reason that he will be condemned. He has lost his money.

All this provides for is that the landlord or the merchant may go to the county board, explain his condition and setup, and if the county board goes through his account and decides it is a valid claim, it is their privilege to contact the state board and verify it. When this happens, the next check the recipient receives is minus the amount he owed that merchant. The merchant receives a check to pay the bill.

If he does this again, it gives the Department of Public Assistance the authority to dismiss him from the rolls, but it does not demand it.

I do not think any one but recipients of public assistance would object to the bill because people of this type are merely giving a black eye to the rest of the people who are really accepting a responsibility and trying to get along.

I would ask the House to support it. I know there will be arguments offered to this extent, that the recipient may go to a delicatessen and because the restaurateur knows that he can get his bill paid, he will sell him a big bill of fancy goods and then collect it from the Department of Public Assistance. That is not correct in my interpretation of the bill because the bill has to be valid. If this restauranter goes and presents a bill for kippered herring or something of that type, it is not a valid food bill and the board may turn it down.

I ask all of you to help out on this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. I venture to suggest, Mr. Speaker, that relief recipients are not the only ones who manage in one way or another to beat the local merchant.

This bill we have before us will not only constitute the county boards and the Department of Public Assistance as collecting agents for local merchants, but it would vest vast and unbridled judicial powers in the county boards in that they would in effect have the power to litigate the validity of claims and to pass upon the legal merits of possible defenses which the debtor might have to payment of the claim.

It is obtaining money without due process of law. There is no more reason why a merchant should have any more protection when he sells to a dead beat who receives relief than when he sells to some other dead beat.

It simply proposes to place the judicial interpretation of the debt in the hands of the Department without any legal recourse as far as the recipient is concerned. It is unsound legislation.

Mr. BANKER. When that man goes to the grocer and asks him for credit, he is not spending money or asking for credit on money he might earn, he is asking for credit on money that that grocer is helping to give him. The groceryman not only loses the money he invested in that chance, he also loses that man as a customer forever because after the man gets his checks, he goes to the cash store and buys his groceries.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Banker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BANKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman stated that after they had spent this money, their checks, and became involved in this deal, they would be kicked off relief. What would happen to them then? That is their last place to go for help?

Mr. BANKER. I am sorry if I did not make myself clear. The bill specifies that in the event of a recurrence, with respect to the man who is trying to get rid of a debt to a merchant, the relief board may, if they desire, remove him from the rolls, but they do not have to.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. That is what I want to know. Where would you recommend that they go if that happened to them?

Mr. BANKER. I would not care.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. You would not care.

Mr. BANKER. No, not if a man is an offender time after time, he is definitely not taking his share of responsibility. He is not appreciative of it.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. I realize that, Mr. Speaker, but we still have that responsibility, to take care of a certain number of people who cannot take care of themselves. You take a man with a family who would go out and spend this money. I believe the family deserves some consideration if they go out and spend this money freely and the merchant takes advantage of them. As a matter of fact I do not care how they spend their money. I still believe that the family should be taken care of. We can't just throw them out on the street and let them starve to death, especially where there are children involved.

Mr. BANKER. It is possible I should have had the penalty different, that you would put the man in the workhouse and give the wife and the children the money. But that is not in this bill.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Don't you think it should be amended because these people who are on relief have no place else to go. If the father were able and will not take care of them, I think maybe that is where he should be.

Mr. BANKER. I would be quite willing to go to the Senate with you so that we can get it through here tonight and put that amendment in the Senate.

I certainly am not interested in people of that type.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to Mr. Auker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will consent to have me answer in place of Mr. Banker.

Mr. LOVETT. I would be very glad to have you do so if you can answer the questions.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed with the interrogation.

Mr. LOVETT. Has this bill been cleared by the Department of Welfare?

Mr. AUKER. That I cannot answer.

Mr. LOVETT. Then you better get somebody else who can answer it.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, before I put this bill into the hopper, I talked with Mr. Ray. I went over to the Department of Welfare to talk with Mrs. Evans and she was not there. Mr. Ray explained that it had to be put on general assistance in order to avoid messing up the Federal Governments contributions. I told him I was going to put the bill in.

Mr. LOVETT. But the gentleman did not have any approval?

Mr. BANKER. I did not have any approval or disapproval. I really see no reason why I should have to have either. We are the ones who are putting the bills in and trying to do something to help the state. We raise the money and we are also trying to curb certain evils. If that is not an evil, I do not know what it is.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman or his assistant?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair and will the gentleman from Huntingdon get together and stand at the same microphone.

Mr. LOVETT. I will take them on double.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Huntingdon yields to the gentleman from Blair.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, know whether or not these merchants have to sell to these people?

Mr. AUKER. No, Mr. Speaker. No merchant has to sell to anyone, as the gentleman from Westmoreland well knows. It is simply out of the kindness of the hearts of the merchants who do not want to see the families of these people hungry that they extend the credit to these people.

I might add, frankly, every merchant in this Commonwealth is a taxpayer. I might add also when the recipient does not have money to pay his grocery bill, it is probably going for booze.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman going to make a speech, I will sit down until he decides to answer the question?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I was just answering the gentleman in full.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, in all fairness, since this merchant is so good of heart that he will give this to these people, does the gentleman think he might stretch his heart just a little wee bit and forget about him when he comes back the next time and give it to him?

Mr. AUKER. Possibly many of them have, and I believe that they have, as well as the landlords who also have carried over relief recipients not only one month but several months. When it gets too big, you cannot expect one taxpayer to carry the relief load for the recipients when the Department of Public Assistance apparently is not following it up to see that that relief money goes to the proper sources for the protection and care of the family for whom the relief is designed.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he thinks the merchant and the landlord are in the same position in this case?

Mr. AUKER. Possibly, yes. Maybe not always, but I think in a large class, yes.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the gentleman realize that the landlord must set the people out on the street and all the merchant has to do is to say, "no sale."

Mr. AUKER. That is true. Then what would become, in your own words, of the poor relief family until other provisions as are set up within the existing laws of this Commonwealth if the man himself is not going to be responsible for his wife and children? I voted for a bill to make the Department of Public Assistance prosecute such cases which was defeated by this House, that he should be thrown into the workhouse until he can be brought to his senses and take care of his wife and children as he took an oath and obligation to do.

Mr. LOVETT. I thank the gentleman Mr. Speaker. He gave a very fine explanation of his own personal opinion of just what should happen to the case.

Since the Department of Public Assistance has not O. K.'d this bill, and since my Floor Leader has explained the evils that could be created under such a system where the county boards could O. K. or disapprove according to their liking, I feel that this is very, very bad legislation.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, no matter how long we debate this bill or how we amend it, it is still going to be a bad bill. I suggest we take a vote on it and let the Members' conscience be their guide.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I am quite willing to see the debate closed except that I would like to ask Mr. "Let's Be Fair" Lovett from Westmoreland County, one question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVETT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, knowing Mr. Lovett, I think I can ask the question. I would like to know if he were a merchant and some worthless chap came into his store with a wife and three children and asked for credit, whether or not he would give it to him.

Mr. LOVETT. The first time, yes; the second time, no.

Mr. BANKER. I doubt that, too.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I did not want to say anything on this bill, but I am familiar with it in a measure and I want to offer this for what it is worth.

The gentlemen who are sponsoring this legislation seem, to my mind, to proceed on the premise that the relief recipient is dishonest and the merchant is honest. I want to suggest to you that in my experience some of these merchants take advantage of people who are on relief.

If we are going to pass legislation in this House that will make the Department of Welfare, the personnel of that Department, a collection agency and have that added hammer over these people's heads, we are going to open up the door that they are going to be greatly exploited. I think this is a bad bill. If the merchant does not want to give them credit, it is within his right to refuse it. If the landlord wants to get added protection, he can demand that the rent be paid in advance. I do not think he needs the protection they are asking for here, and I believe if we pass this bill, we are going to add to the problems that already face us in dealing with the relief situation.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, just one closing word. I believe that the unfortunate people who must accept relief do not want it. I also think they would be very happy to get rid of those few people who bring down so much criticism on the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I merely want to tell the Members of the House Assembly that I concur in the opinion of Justice Andrews, and Justice Jones.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1310 as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 3101 of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by providing fines penalties and costs may be recoverable by a borough before any justice of the peace or alderman within the county in which such borough is located

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 3101 of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" as reenacted amended and revised by the act approved the tenth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1621) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3101 Recovery of Fines Penalties and Costs Fines penalties and costs made payable by this act or imposed under any ordinances of the borough shall be recoverable before the burgess or any justice of the peace of the borough or justice of the peace or alderman of the county in the same manner as debts not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300) are recoverable and when so recovered shall be forthwith paid to the treasurer of the borough instituting the proceedings

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is designed to eliminate a bad practice in the Scranton area, in the township of Throop, whereby people are failing to pay their wage taxes and because of the fact that the local aldermen and justices of the peace will not prosecute them. The purpose of the bill is to permit other justices of the peace and aldermen in the same county to collect those taxes with the money to go to the burgess and the borough treasury.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I have always advocated being a very law-abiding citizen, but if we have come to the place where the wage tax is so hard to collect that we have to allow the constables and justices of the peace to go all over the place in order to force these people to pay these taxes, I think we should repeal the wage tax.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1601, as follows:

An Act to amend Clause (10) of Section 925 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by limiting the liability of Commonwealth for payment of compensation to attorneys employed by county boards of school directors

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Clause (10) of Section 925 of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial scools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 925 Powers and Duties The county board of school directors in respect to school districts under the supervision of the county superintendent shall have power and its duty shall be

* * * * *

(10) To employ an attorney for such purposes as may be required and to fix his compensation which shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per annum except upon the approval of the court of common pleas of the county The compensation herein provided for shall be paid by the Commonwealth from appropriations for this purpose or from the appropriations for the public schools

Where such compensation exceeds one hundred dollars ($100) per annum the excess thereof shall be deducted pro rata from appropriations to the school districts involved

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. DuBois, to explain the bill and the reason for the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. DuBois permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. DUBOIS. No.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman refuses to be interrogated.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman does not care to explain the bill, will he please tell me how he is going to vote on the bill?

Mr. DUBOIS. No.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, as I have read and studied the bill and the change that exists which the Members have on their desks, it specifically says that the compensation of the county school board's attorney shall not exceed $100; and when it exceeds $100, the amount then shall be pro-rated among the school districts in the county. For instance, if you have a county school board solicitor who is paid $2,000 or $3,000 a year, $100 of that will come from this fund, the remainder, we will say $1,900, would then be divided among the school districts in the county in which the county school board is located.

If I am wrong, will the sponsor please say so?

Mr. DUBOIS. No.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, since the bill has been explained, I would plead with the sponsor of the bill to tell me if there have been any violations or whether or not this thing is necessary, if he knows of any cases.

Mr. DUBOIS. No.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I have a letter here which may have a little bearing on this bill.

July 15, 1953.

Duncan McCallum
Secretary to the Governor
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Dunc:

Dr. Beattie has just informed me that Mr. Bolla of the Department of Justice has introduced a bill in the Legislature to amend Section 925 of the School Code limiting the fees of County School Board solicitors to $100.00 per annum and anything in excess thereof to be deducted from each school district subsidies comprising the county. That section of the code as now written fixes the County School Board's solicitor's fees at $100.00 per annum, except that upon petition and order of the Common Pleas Court said fees may be increased and are payable by the Commonwealth.

We are vitally interested in the Bolla amendment not being passed, since it affects Allegheny County in particular. Can you assist in seeing that this bill is (1) kept in committee; (2) delayed, or (3) amended so as to provide for $2000.00 for county solicitors in second-class counties (Allegheny County)

As School Board County Solicitor for Allegheny County, I feel that the amendment introduced by Mr. Bolla is aimed at Allegheny County which has its own particular problems which require the services of a solicitor and whose fees cannot be limited to $100.00.

I am sending a copy of this letter to Representatives Cooper, Ewing, Thompson and Haudenshield, who are from my district.

Sincerely yours,
John B. Nicklas, Jr.

JBN:HHM

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I believe the bill does require a little explanation.

This does not limit the salary of the solicitor to $100, but it does limit the responsibility of the Commonwealth to the payment of that salary to $100. The county school board can pay any salary they want above that amount, but they must be responsible for the payment. That is all the bill does.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the sponsor of the bill just answer one more question?

Mr. DUBOIS. No.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman have any objection if I vote the same way he does, "No"?

Mr. DUBOIS. No.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I have permission to interrogate Mr. Helm?

The SPEAER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HELM. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on the last page of the bill, does it not specifically say that the amount paid over that shall be deducted pro-rata from the appropriation in the bill.

Mr. HELM. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. Therefore, if a county school has an attorney or solicitor at a greater salary than the amount specified there; if they pay him $2,000 a year, would not the balance, $1,900, be deducted from state appropriations to the school districts involved within that county?

Mr. HELM. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. HELM. It makes the districts liable for the salary of the solicitor.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, since we are really finding out what the bill does, I think it is an attorney's bill. It just gives him an opportunity to charge whatever he wants to and divide it up all over the school districts.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Will the sponsor of this bill mind explaining it?

Mr. MOODY. Mr. Speaker, this bill was put in by request from a Member of the General Assembly.

It would be like an employe of the XYZ railroad going to the superintendent and saying, "Can I run for the General Assembly?" The The Supervisor says, "Yes, go ahead, run." Then after the fellow is elected, the supervisor comes to him and says, "Well, you won. Now you will have to turn your pay over to me. If you do not turn the pay check over, then you will have to get out." The fellow may have 15 to 20 years' seniority, and at that time he would either have to turn the pay check over or else lose the job.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, am I to understand that the gentleman pays his check to the company involved, XYZ?

Mr. MOODY. Just two of them.

Mr. FILO. What two and what amounts, may I ask?

Mr. MOODY. As I understand the story, the first two $600 checks.

Section 9 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOODLING. I want to assure you, Mr. Speaker, that I have no intention of changing my overalls for the cloth, but I feel that I would be derelict in my duty if I did not say just a word or two against this particular legislation.

I believe I am correct in saying that the first sabbath observance law was written about 1491 B.C., which means that it has been in effect for over three thousand years and has never been amended to the best of my knowledge. No attempt has ever been made to repeal it.

It is very simple language, written so everybody can understand it. It requires neither an attorney nor a judge to interpret it. It is an eight-word law as I remember it, and it simply says, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

I do not think any one in his right mind could condemn bowling, but when you ask to bowl on Sunday, I think you are getting one more toe into a door that is already too crowded.

If the Members of this House think we should further liberalize our Sabbath laws, then vote "Yes" on this particular bill. If you agree with me that we already have gone too far, then vote "No" on this bill.

Because of the peculiar nature of this bill, Mr. Speaker, I do not think it would be fair to record anybody who is not here and answering to his name.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, all this bill will do is permit the people of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to hold a referendum vote in regards to Sunday bowling.

The bill has two purposes, and that is to permit those who work in the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia during the week, who cannot get to the bowling alleys, to bowl on Sunday. It also permits those two cities to bid for the American Bowling Congress convention.

The way the law is now, with no Sunday bowling, and because the Convention climax is the Championship Bowling Tournament which runs from 80 to 90 days consecutively, they are not able to bid for this Convention. If the bill would be passed it would give both cities an opportunity to hold this Convention there and the ABC Championship Bowling Tournament.

Also this would mean about five or six million dollars of business for the cities if the tournament were held there.

Pennsylvania being the center of the bowling population, this may mean to Pittsburgh and Philadelphia a greater amount of revenue through the bowlers coming into the city to bowl in this Tournament.

In the State of Washington just recently Governor Arthur B. Langley signed a bill passed by the Senate and the House to reduce the rental fee of the armory there so that the Tournament could be held there next year. It is the desire of the bowlers of Pennsylvania to have an opportunity to be host to the Bowling Convention the following year. I ask every Member of the House to vote for the bill.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, as a former bowling proprietor of about 22 alleys, 23 to be exact, anything that I would say would be an anticlimax to the words of wisdom Mr. Dunn has spoken before me. I wish this House to support the bill.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Dunn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOODLING. Mr. Speaker, if this is good legislation for the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, why is it not good legislation for the entire Commonwealth?

Mr. DUNN. This bill was written up for Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Mr. GOODLING. Well, I am asking why we should legislate for Pittsburgh and Philadelphia? Why not the entire Commonwealth?

Mr. DUNN. I have a bill in Committee that would take care of that, but it was never left out of Committee.

Mr. GOODLING. I still insist, Mr. Speaker, that it is bad legislation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as we have not been able to accumulate a full house and we are holding up the Members, I will be very brief and allow Mr. Schmidt to make his remarks and I will answer them.

This bill is the Allegheny County referendum bill. It would provide merely that where property is purchased for federal housing, it must be approved by a referedum of the people in the municipality wherein that federal housing is to be situated or that property is to be purchased.

I yield to Mr. Schmidt.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, first I desire to correct one of the sponsors of this bill. This is not an Allegheny County housing bill. This is a bill that deals with housing throughout the Commonweath of Pennsylvania. This bill, if enacted, would destroy all the good of the housing program and the legislation that we have enacted here in Pennsylvania.

I do not want to take up any further time of the House. I want to remind the House that this bill is the identical bill which was before the 1951 Session of this Assembly. At that time Mr. Young, of Mercer, was the sponsor of that bill. I will remind this House that the vote on the bill in 1951 was 80 aye, 113 no. The result of this bill, if enacted, would stymie all housing development in Pennsyvania and would be a great hindrance to urban redevelopment.

We ask you all in the interest of further redevelopment and housing in Pennsylvania to defeat this bill.

Mr. VAUGHN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Schmidt said that urban redevelopment was a great thing for housing, which I agree with, but he forgot to tell you that it was created for one thing, to clear out blighted areas.

The reason for this particular bill and why the reference was to the city of Pittsburgh, not to Allegheny County—it was really meant and it was offered for the city, of course, and Mr. Geer tried to amend it to take in Allegheny County.

The particular housing project that we are talking about is not a blighted area. In fact, in 1947 I myself tried to buy a lot where this particular housing project was going on. The property was owned by the School Board, the City of Pittsburgh, and the County of Allegheny, and they would not sell me a lot as far back as then. That is how long ago they were planning for this particular project.

I am not against housing projects, but I am against putting housing projects where they do not belong. Why do they not go ahead and put them in blighted areas where they are supposed to clean up those areas, and make them what they should be and put housing where it really belongs.

I rise to ask my colleagues, and those on the other side of the House, to go along with this bill, although I notice from the last rollcall that we have only 148 Members in the House. That is a little weak.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that 148 Members are too few Members, considering the fact that this is a referendum. I think it is pretty important to a man in his own home, in his own community, where he lives and where he is going to live for the rest of his life. He is buying a home for good, taking twenty years to pay for it, and as Mr. Schmidt says there is going to be some money lost by the federal government.

I think it is a most important thing to the citizens of this state and this Commonwealth, no matter whom this bill would be for, that a person can live in a community and not expect at any moment that some man makes a decision in some office who does not live in that district, live in that area, that he is going to have to have a new school in that area. He is going to have to have more taxes. Remember this, they might contribute something to the taxes of that municipality but they never contribute as much as they got before. That is a proven fact.

And so, he has bigger schools. Four hundred families move in or 600, and maybe there are a thousand children, but he does not have any choice. He has nothing to say about it, and he has to make up for those taxes and the expense and cost of those people who are living in that community. He has no selection for his neighbors. People choose communities because they like the type of homes; they like the area. They do not move into industrial areas.

What are our zoning laws for? Why do people protect their districts? It is not a case of class distinction, it is a case where a man is going to live there for the rest of his life with his family in his home. He has a right to vote on whether they are going to have federal housing and whether somebody in some office is going to pick it out. This is the democratic way for people to select their way of living.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, in yesterday's Bulletin there appeared an editorial on this bill which is as follows:

> House Bill 631 in the Pennsylvania Legislature pretends to put democracy into public housing but its true purpose is to wreck the public housing program. The bill provides that no housing authority may acquire land by condemnation, purchase, gift or in any other way withouth first getting the consent of the voters in an election. That would mean a city-wide referendum with a ballot on every property acquisition, large or small, of the Philadelphia authority. At the very best an authority hedged by such restrictions would be seriously delayed in carrying out its purposes. Bills of this sort have been appearing all over the country in recent years. There are so many of them that the conclusion is irresistible that they are inspired by the same central source which has in its agenda the death of public housing by direct means or indirect, by fair means or foul. Such legislation has gone down to defeat in previous sessions and this bill deserves a similar fate.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, not to take up the time of the House, I will not place into the record these voluminous documents on this particular bill.

All I ask the Chair and the Clerk is to please record only those who vote.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. YOUNG asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. YOUNG. During debate on this bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Schmidt, stated that this was the same bill I sponsored two years ago and it is still a good bill. I would remind the gentlemen that they only got 80 votes when I was the sole sponsor. They had seven sponsors and they only got 87 votes.

Mr. VAUGHN. The House realizes that we are at least gaining, Mr. Speaker.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 627 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 382) entitled "An act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of 'Authorities' for municipalities counties and townships prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities heretofore or hereafter incorporated authorizing such Authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such Authorities authorizing such Authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof and conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates" by requiring certain utility rates to be approved by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. I will try to give this bill one last gasp, Mr. Speaker, the particular proposal that is before us today has been on the calendar for some time. I have at all times in this House endeavored to render courtesies to each of the 206 other Members who serve with me. As a consequence of the continual offering of these courtesies, and having had 627 passed over, I realize that I am caught with this bill during the dying days of this Session, and with a light House.

I want to make one statement very briefly, in favor of this bill and ask the Membership to then decide their course of action. I know that the opponents may argue this bill on many points which I have debated in my own caucus, in which I believe I have disproved their particular objections.

The bill merely places rates of municipal authorities as concerns water authorities, sewer rentals, and so forth, at the approval of the Public Utility Commission. There have been wide and flagrant abuses of rates raises by the municipal authorities throughout the state of Pennsylvania. The bill does not jeopardize municipal authorities. It merely gives to the water consumer and to the user of the services rendered by municipal authorities one small iota of protection.

The recodification of the 1945 Act on municipal authorities, Mr. Speaker, gave every possible consideration to the investment firms, to the bondholders, and to municipal authorities without one bit of consideration to the ratepayer. This will give the ratepayer the protection that is afforded by the Public Utility Commission, which is a branch of government created by this Assembly to give the user of these services the protection that he needs.

In event there are statements made on the floor of the House, Mr. Speaker, which do not coincide with my thoughts on this particular manner, I will have to debate it further. However, I am willing to move now and ask for the support of the Members on both sides of this House to give to the user of these services, as concerns municipal authorities, the protection of having the rate increases that are foisted upon him approved by the PUC before they go into effect.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I just desire to call the attention of the House to the fact that we are dealing with an authority. Whether you like authorities or not, if a municipality is going to have an authority they must do it by reason of a contract with the bondholders who are going to buy their bonds, otherwise they cannot finance these authorities.

I would say this. There is nothing to prevent you from putting into your agreement the proviso that the rate will be governed by the Public Utility Commission, but I can assure you that if such a provision were in your agreement with the financing house, your bonds would sell at such a high interest rate that it would be absolutely impossible to earn sufficient money from your income to finance your bonds. It will be a deterrent to the financing of the authority.

If you want to get rid of authorities, get rid of them. So long as you are going to have authorities, if you put a regulation like this into the law, you are going to hamstring, so to speak, the authorities in financing their work.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, if doing away with authorities will stop the gouging of the public, which has been happening in our district, then I say do away with the authorities. I am going to vote for this bill.

Mr. VAUGHN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the new floor leader of the Allegheny County delegation on the other side of the House, Mr. Schmidt.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VAUGHN. Mr. Speaker, now that the city of Pittsburgh has decided not to have an authority, or the right to create an authority, and have their water works, why would the Allegheny County delegation be against this particular bil'?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that although at the present time the City of Pittsburgh has seen fit for the moment to forget about the water authority, due to the fact that the interest on bonds is going up, it would not be profitable for the city to enter into an authority, which I say is an argument in behalf of this bill. Because of that fact, there are still other municipalities that may be in the process of entering into authorities. This does not only apply to water authorities, this may apply to gas authorites, and electric light authorities. You can have them and they would still, under the provisions of this bill if you pass it, be required to appear before the Public Utility Commission to have their rates approved.

Mr. VAUGHN. I thank the gentleman.

NOT VOTING—1

Watkins,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 164, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the several fire companies of the City of Harrisburg Pennsylvania

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 164, Printer's No. 467, is my pet peeve. Those of you who were here in the 1951 Session will remember that I griped about it at that time, and I gripe about it again this time.

I am not going to take much time. I am just going to point out what the bill does and then yield to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Jones.

This bill provides an appropriation of $5,000 to several fire companies in the city of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania period.

I have taken the position that a bill such as this does not give justice throughout the entire Commonwealth, that there are many fire companies, particularly small fire companies, who are protecting many millions of dollars worth of property, together with many hundreds and thousands of lives of our citizens. While Harrisburg receives the sum—they are volunteer fire companies, I might say, incidentally; I do not think they should have them—but while they receive $5,000, the poor companies all along the countryside protecting large institutions receive nothing.

We are going to try to amend this bill, and for the purpose of amendment, I would like to yield to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Jones, and ask at this time that the Chair recognizes me following the vote on whether the amendments are carried or lost.

Mr. OGILVIE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have Senate Bill 164, Printer's No. 467, passed over tonight.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. I object, Mr. Speaker. I offer the following amendment and I would like to make a brief statement after it is read.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES offered the following amendment to the bill:

Amend Bill, page 2, by inserting after line 4 the following

Section 2. The sum of nine hundred dollars ($900) is hereby specifically appropriated to the Cresson Volnuteer Fire Company, the Hollidaysburg Volunteer Fire Company and the Duncansville Volunteer Fire Company for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three for the protection of State property at the Cresson Sanitorium, the Hollidaysburg State Hospital, the district office and maintenance building of the Department of Highways and the State Police Barracks located at Hollidaysburg.

Said sum shall be distributed between said companies in an equal amount.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the second reading postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide.

On a rising vote, 55 members having voted in the affirmative and 53 in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. If this motion prevails, is the gentleman who offered the amendments precluded from getting them in?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be precluded from putting them in this evening. The gentleman may offer the amendments when the bill is called up from the second reading postponed calendar.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Then if we vote this motion down, the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Jones, has a right to have his amendments considered.

The SPEAKER. If the motion is voted down this evening, yes.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. That is what I wanted to find out, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GEORGE E. JONES. I asked permission to make a brief statement after I presented my amendment.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, the motion to postpone precludes amendment of the bill and debate on the amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 650, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I would like to briefly discuss the subject of water today. Water is one of the most important essentials to life itself.

Mr. President, I think all of us will agree that without water, a community cannot thrive. I think all of us will agree that we cannot have industrial expansion without it. The wheels of industry cannot turn without water. Water is needed in agriculture. As I said before, it is needed to preserve life itself. Some people may say, that we have a lot of water in our districts and, for that reason, they may say it is not a problem with us. Therefore, they are not interested.

Mr. President, that same thing does not hold true in some areas. That fact was recognized by leaders in government, as well as leaders of civic organizations. I might say it was recognized by this Legislature because as far back as 1937, this Legislature began to appropriate funds to make an investigation for a source of water from the Delaware River.

As a matter of fact, Mr. President, this Legislature appropriated approximately $1,000,000 on research for engineering and for studies and for plans and specifications, to assure a water supply for Philadelphia and the surrounding area. The plans were approved and they were submitted to the Legislatures of New York, New Jersey and Delaware. Each of the States approved the plan. It was submitted to the State of Pennsylvania at the close of the Duff Administration and the plans had the endorsement of Governor Duff. However, a short time after he left office, Governor Fine decided to further investigate the plans that were prepared and this Legislature appropriated $350,000 for that purpose.

Mr. President, the $350,000 is gone and so is all of the other money that was appropriated since the 1937-1939 biennium. We, in Pennsylvania, at least to this date, have not gotten even a drop of water from the whole project and neither have we, to this date, approved the plan, although the other three States have given their approval.

Mr. President, I decided yesterday that the responsibility for approving or disapproving this plan ought to be placed on somebody's shoulders. That person is the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth. Accordingly, I wrote him a letter which I delivered to his office personally. This is what the letter states:

"Dear Governor Fine:

"House Bill 1295, known as the Incodel proposal, with which you no doubt are familiar, was introduced in the House on May 27 with the sponsorship of the Honorables Hiram G. Andrews, Minority Leader, and Norman Wood, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

"The proposal passed the House on June 24 by a vote of 141 to 26, was received by the Senate and referred to the Senate Committee on Forests and Waters—Game and Fish on June 25.

"Although requests have been made to the chairman of the committee by committee members and other Senate members, the chairman has and still refuses to bring the bill before the Senate for consideration for the reason —the chairman has said—that if it was favorably reported from committee and passed by the Senate—it would receive your veto.

"Since the Incodel plan has been thoroughly studied by legislative leaders, the Chairman of the State Planning Board, and by reputable, reliable, impartial, and leading engineering firms as well as Army engineers, and has been favorably recommended, and

"Since approximately one million dollars of Pennsylvania taxpayer's money has already been spent to finance studies and plans, and

"Since the Incodel plan is the only practical, developed, approved plan in existence to assure an adequate water supply to the area involved, and

"Since a water supply is vital to the people, industry, industrial expansion, and for agricultural purposes, your position on this very important proposal—as Governor of Pennsylvania—should be made clear to members of the Senate, and, more particularly, the public.

"It is not within the right of any individual, groups of individuals, or cliques, to deal or negotiate with other states on this subject without legislative authority.

"Therefore, if the proposal has your support, you should not only make your position known—but you should also use such influence as you have at your command—as you have done with other legislation of importance to the people—to have the bill reported from committee for the consideration of the Senate as a whole.

"On the other hand, if you are opposed to House Bill 1295, you should so state publicly.

"Since time is of the essence because of the limited number of legislative days before final adjaurnment, I am delivering this letter to your office personally with the hope of prompt action by you.

"Trusting you will treat this letter in the light and spirit in which it is written, as well as anticipating your cooperation, I am "Very sincerely,"

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, if Governor Fine has the courage that I think he has, he will answer that letter and make his position clear. I would not like to see the onus placed on this Legislature for failing to go along with the three other States in a compact to give Pennsylvania a water supply. The responsibility must be placed on some shoulders, and those shoulders should be the shoulders of the Chief Executive. I say that specifically because the chairman who has the bill has been influenced from some source in not bringing te bill up and reporting it to this body for its consideration or for its rejection or for its approval.

Mr. President, yesterday I introduced a resolution here dealing with the same subject. It called upon the Attorney General of Pennsylvania to submit to this Senate the terms of any agreement that he made in the city of New York, between the city and State of New York and the State of New Jersey, on the allocation of water from the Delaware River. Mr. Mahany, the Majority Leader, asked me to agree to withhold action on the resolution, and said we would visit the Attorney General this morning and get such information from him as he might have.

Mr. President, I must say for Senator Mahany that he met me this morning and we visited the Attorney General's office and discussed the subject at length. The Attorney General said that he did not know whether he could construe what happened in New York as an agreement. He said there was an understanding whereby the city and State of New York were allocated an additional 360,000,000 gallons of dater per day; the State of New Jersey, $260,000,000 gallons, and Pennsylvania, although it got no water, was to get some sort of an agreement from the State of New Jersey which would authorize Pennsylvania to construct a dam in the Wallenpaupach area. The construction of this dam would require legislative approval in New Jersey. I am informed that the Legislature of New Jersey turned down this proposal at its last session.

Mr. President, this being true, the part of the bargain that would benefit us is still in doubt. In spite of the fact that the Attorney General said there was no agreement, that it was just a misunderstanding, my interpretation is an agreement is an understanding, and it is still an agreement.

The thing that I question, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, is where the Attorney General or any other individual got the authority to make any kind of a deal or any kind of an agreement with the State of New York, State of New Jersey or any other State that would give concessions to those States by this State. It requires legislative authority and it just is not there. In the report that emanated from New York at the time this agreement was made, is was indicated that the Pennsylvania Water Resources Board, of which Mr. Greenfield, of Philadelphia, is the Chairman—

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the board has no right, under any legislation or by virtue of any statute, to make any agreements or any deals on any subject anywhere, any time or any place.

Mr. President, the Pennsylvania Water Resources Board was established for purely one purpose, and that purpose was to investigate the merits of the INCODEL Plan. It completed its job. Therefore, it is no longer in existence. Where it gets the power to approve proposals or agreements or suggestions is beyond me. I know of no authority that yould give the Attorney General of Pennsylvania the right to make agreements or deals on this subject or any other subject without specific legislative authority. I do not believe that authority goes with the office. At least, not in transactions of this kind.

In any event, Mr. President, the Attorney General did not have the information that I had asked for. He referred me to the counsel in the case involved, William A. Schnader. Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I want to touch upon that just a little bit because, in my opinion, this matter is becoming a racket of some kind. I call your attention to the fact that in 1950, unless I am mistaken, the city of New York filed an application with the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania for an additional allocation of water from the Delaware River. The State of New Jersey objected and filed a complaint. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entered the case as an intervenor and I want to indicate to you the number of lawyers representing the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in this matter.

Mr. President, the attorneys listed are Robert E. Woodside, Attorney General of Pennsylvania; George G. Chandler, who I think is a Philadelphia lawyer; Bernard G. Segal, listed as Special Counsel and Solicitor for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Intervenor. Incidentally, Mr. Segal is a partner of the Schnader firm. Then, down below, we have William A. Schnader. So, you have two attorneys from the same law firm, representing the Commonwealth in the same case. Then you have Harry F. Stambaugh, Special Counsel to the Intervenor. That is a lot of legal talent.

Mr. President, I think the Presiding Officer is a lawyer. There are other attorneys in this Chamber, and I just wonder what Mr. Chandler would know about this case that Mr. Woodside did not know or vice versa; or what Mr. Segal would know about the case that Mr. Chandler did not know and Mr. Woodside did not know or vice versa. I would like to know what Mr. Schnader knows about the case that Mr. Segal, his partner, does not know, or Mr. Chandler does not know, or Mr. Woodside and his entire staff does not know about the case.

Mr. President, in my humble opinion, I would say this. Probably Harry F. Stambaugh, who I understand is a Deputy Attorney General of Pennsylvania, probably knows more about this water problem than the whole cadoodle of them put together. If I am not mistaken, it is probably Harry Stambaugh who does all of the work, who writes the briefs, who prepares the petitions and who gets the small, measly salary while these other high priced Piladelphia lawyers collect the booty.

Mr. President, I would like to know, and I am going to ask, just how much it cost in fees, just how much it cost in fees for all of these lawyers, two of them from the same firm, to represent the Commonwealth in this case where it did not get a drop of water, where it started out to oppose the State of New York getting any water and then turned and gave them even more than they asked for. I say, Mr. President, it just is not fair and it is a matter that should be looked into.

Another strange feature about this whole problem, Mr. President, a problem that has been studied for a good number of years, as I said before, is the fact that those who oppose INCODEL, and that is Mr. Schnader and the Greenfield Committee and, probably, the Governor, go right down to New York and negotiate on a problem that involves INCODEL. These same lawyers represent different interests in the same problem. They represent the Pennsylvania Water Resources Board and then they represent the Commonwealth in another action involving the same problem.

Mr. President, it just does not make sense to me. I am confused. There are some bad legal ethics here. I often see Mr. Segal, and this is no attack on him, issue statements about legal ethics in connection with the practice of law in Philadelphia. I would suggest to Mr. Segal, who I understand is the Chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar Association, that he gives this a little bit of thought and issue some kind of a statement on the legal ethics of two partners being represented in the same case, under separate categories.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, the people who oppose this legislation are the same people who recommended that Pennsylvania not go along with INCODEL; that Pennsylvania go up to the Pocono Mountains and there buy 50,000 acres of swampland; 50,000 acres of swampland that would bring forth what? It would bring forth nothing but brown water, not fit for human consumption and not even fit for industrial purposes unless treated with a chemical at great expense. They are the same people who hired Mr. Schnader as the solicitor; Mr. Schnader, who was also the solicitor for the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, which gives you evidence of collusion. They hired the same engineering firm, Gannett, Fleming and somebody else, who are also the engineers for the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company. Those same engineers participated in the deliberations in New York of which I spoke a short time ago

Mr. President, this thing stinks to me. They called the New York thing a compromise. It was not a compromise; it was a surrender. That is what it was. I say to you Members of this Senate, and I say to you, Mr. President, what the schemers and connivers are up to is to prolong this matter, keep it away from the Legislature so that they can continue to be engaged in controversy and milk the Commonwealth and its taxpayers of fees and funds to take care of their law offices. The Pennsylvania Water Resources Board, of course, does not want to go along with INCODEL. I say it is still living in hopes of going up to the Pocono Mountains to sell the Commonwealth the 50,000 acres of swampland that has been turned down by the city of Philadelphia and others.

Mr. President, it is about time this Legislature did something about this. It is about time we do something about it now. I regret that we could not get that bill released from committee. I do not want to place the entire blame on the chairman, because I believe the chairman is a progressive man. This is a progressive step, and I challenge anyone to say that it is not. I say the chairman of the committee is a progressice man, because there is an appropriation before us for two and one-half million dollars to take care of a port up in his area. There is another bill before us for the construction of a highway extension that will benefit his area. He must be interested in progress. I regret that he permitted someone to tie his hands and keep that bill in committee.

Mr. President, I do not think it is complimentary on the part of this great State to not go along with the compact that has already been approved by other States, to some extent similar in nature. However, at the same time, they approved it in principle and here we lag behind, waiting for what? Are we waiting until a natural drought hits us, just as it hit the State of New York? If that is what we are doing, some day we may regret it. If these other States get together, as I said when I spoke on this subject before, with Pennsylvania not participating, we may have to get down on our knees and beg them for water at some future time.

It is not too late, Members of the Senate, and I say this to the chairman of the committee. There are a sufficient number of legislative days for us to act on this bill. It passed the House by a sizable majority; there were only twenty-six votes against it. I think the Members of this Senate should, at least, be given the privilege of passing on it or voting on it, of either rejectng it or approving it, so that the other three States will know exactly where we stand and how we stand.

Mr. President, if we reject it, let us stop spending money on it If we approve it, let us go along with the other States and assure ourselves a supply of good, clean, wholesome water for the benefit of industry, for the benefit of the communities that are involved, for the benefit of agriculture and for the benefit of Pennsylvania, so that it can expand and prosper.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I am very glad, indeed, to be supplied with the information from the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko.

Mr. President, I can assure this Senate, in the performance of my legislative functions, that the Chairman of the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish is never arbitrary and never dictatorial. I believe in the closing days of a Session that a chairman, like every other Senator, must exercise sound reason and good common sense in the performance of legislative functions. I have been influenced in my actions by no man, by no person.

Mr. President, I do not understand the INCODEL problem. The bill is a large, voluminous bill, controversial in many respects and objectionable from many sources. I want the time, and the committee wants the time, to examine carefully into the problem that it represents. I do not want to take away anything from the people of the eastern part of Pennsylvania. I do not want to attack the gentleman from Northampton, for whom I have the greatest respect, as well as every other Senator on the floor of this Senate.

Mr. President, I want to assure him that there will be nothing lost by the delay between now and the next Session of the Senate, and I am going to assure him that if this bill is introduced in 1955, it should be introduced early so that the committee can give it very careful, constant and efficient consideration.

Mr. President, while this bill was referred to me on June 25, by reason of the fact that the Senate was not in Session during the first week of July, I did not receive the bill until July 6. After a poll of the committee, I was governed accordingly in my actions on this bill.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, since the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass, rose, I must reply to him.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Erie, Senator Blass, had this bill since June 25, practically one month. If the bill were as voluminous as he says it is and if the bill is as controversial as he says it is, and he admits he knows very little or nothing about it, then there was no reason to strap it up and bottle it up in committee, knowing that many Members of this Senate, as well as many public officials such as Mr. Heyburn, the Chairman of the Planning Commission of Pennsylvania, Charlie Smith, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, were interested in this bill. I do not know whether Senator Watson has an interest in it or not. I believe he does because he is a member of INCODEL. Senator Crowe has an interest in it, and I know some of my colleagues have an interest in it.

Therefore Mr. President, if it were controversial, as the leader of that committee it was his duty to call a hearing and call the engineers from both sides and call tho other parties, the pros and the cons, to the public hearing. There he should heve explained the terms of this bill so that all of the Members of the Legislature would obtain a clear understanding of it.

Mr. President, if we were to strap up and bottle up every bill which is controversial, there would be very few controversial bills come out on this calendar.

Mr. President, since the gentleman from Erie rose and made the statements that he did, I have a right to reply and say that I was told by members of the committee, when I asked that the bill be reported out, that he said that he would rather resign the chairmanship of the committee before he would report the bill out. There must have been some motive; there must have been some impelling reason. It must have been very important for him to make a statement like that, or even as much as bottle a bill up, knowing the time and effort that was spent in the study of this very important piece of legislation.

Mr. President, there is one man of whom I know—a Member of this Senate talked to me about him the other day—Ellwood Turner, a distinguished and hard-working Member of the General Assembly, who served on the INCODEL Committee, who lived with it, gave of his time and gave of his money, gave of his thought and his brains and everything that he had in him to make INCODEL a reality because he knew the benefits which would come from it in the locality in which he lived. That same locality is in need of that same fresh water.

Mr. President, I do not want to make an attack on Mr. Greenfield or anybody else, but I know that he is opposed to this bill. I know that he has used whatever influence he could to keep that bill in committee. Whether he used it with the chairman or not, I am not saying. However, I do know that he has been in contact to keep that bill in committee, and I would like to know why. Since when did he become a water expert? Is it because he served on the Pennsylvania Water Resources Board for a couple of months? That does not make him an expert in water or the needs of water. His own city of Philadelphia, where he lives, turned down specifically, after considerable study, the plan that he tried to sell to this Legislature to buy 50,000 acres of swampland from the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company.

The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, Mr. President, thus far has been successful in disposing of some of the property for which it has no further use. For instance, for $1.00 they sold the canal to the Commonwealth, and the Commonwealth must spend thousands upon thousands of dollars to maintain it. The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company was relieved of its responsibility and saddled it on the taxpayers of this Commonwealth. Now it wants to sell us swampland and has the courage to try to make us use it for water supply.

Mr. President, I have talked to people who have made a survey, from Lehigh Uuiversity, of the entire area and I have the report right here. I will show it to anybody who wants to see it. They will tell you exactly what you will get out of the swampland.

Mr. President, to me there is a little something wrong with that Pennsylvania Water Resources Board. I asked to see a copy of the minutes of that board. They will not let you see them. I introduced a resolution to have them produced and the distinguished Majority Leader said he would get them from the Secretary of Forests and Waters. When the demand was made, they put an iron curtain around the minutes. What is so secret about the activities and deliberations of a body that was created by this Legislature and financed by public funds?

Mr. President, one of these days this whole problem, if they keep fooling around with it and keep delaying and they keep spending public funds, is going to wind up in a taxpayers' suit. If we cannot weed the information we want out of them this way, we will get it that way. We will get it in a court of record. It is going to happen sooner or later, just as sure as I am standing here.

Mr. President, the Fish and Wildlife Bureau of the United States Department of the Interior made a survey of this project for the Pennsylvania Water Resources Board. If you take a look at the records, you will find that the employees from this bureau were paid $10,000 to make that survey. If you ask for a copy of the survey, they say you cannot see it. They put an iron curtain around it. Do you know why? Because it is an adverse report and they do not want you to see it. We can, however, get hold of that, too, if they continue to be as stubborn as they are. We will take them into court and we will find out whether a body created by this Legislature, authorized or commanded to report to this Legislature, can hide any of its information, its minutes, its reports or anything else that is done in connection with studies which it was authorized to make.

Mr. President, I, for one, am getting sick and tired of this iron curtain business. I am getting sick and tired of just presenting to this Legislature what they want to present. If it looks all right, they will give it to you and if it does not, then they will not. I will not say that is true with all of the executives on this Hill; some are very cooperative. They should be commended. However, those who do not want to cooperate have no business in State Government, because State Government is financed by the taxpayers' money and the taxpayers have a right to know what is going on. It is for us who represent them to tell them what is going on ,whether it is right or wrong. Those who are wrong should be kicked out; those who are right should be retained and commended.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I rise here not to talk on the INCODEL plan. That is too much of an involved problem for me; it is too watery a problem for me to understand.

Mr. President, I do rise to take exception to some of the remarks made by my colleague, as far as they refer to Mr. Albert M. Greenfield, of Philadelphia. Mr. Greenfield was appointed Chairman of the Pennsylvania Water Resources Board by Governor Fine, although he is known to be a Democrat. I am sure that Governor Fine appointed him for only one reason and that is because of the reputation which Mr. Greenfield has for great insight and extraordinary ability.

Mr. President, Mr. Greenfield, who is now past the age of sixty-five, has, because of his financial ability, acquired a great deal of this world's goods. I have known of him for the past thirty years; I came to know him more intimately in the past three years. I am sure that whether he is right or wrong on this question of the INCODEL plan, I am certain that a man who has received more awards from civic and philanthropical organizations of Philadelphia than any man of whom I have ever heard, the opinion which he has given with regard to this plan is not based on any ulterior motive, but is based solely on what he honestly believes is for the best interests of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I think you know that I have the greatest respect for the ability, intelligence and integrity of every Member of this body. I certainly believe that there is no one in this Senate who works harder than our distinguished colleague from Northampton, Senator Yosko.

Mr. President, in the heart of the closing days of the Session, I hate to see controversies develop of this nature between Members of this body. I am sure that Senator Yosko has worked as hard on the INCODEL plan as anyone has who is in this Senate. I believe that the INCODEL problem is as serious a piece of legislation as has ever come before the Legislation of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, the basic problem is to develop a water authority along the Delaware River and, of course, many people in our area of the State, in northeastern Pennsylvania, are vitally concerned with it. It attempts to set up a pact between four States to decide who is to get the benefit or the use of the water of the Delaware River. This is a very, very controversial subject and it is certainly very important because once we agree to a four-State compact and dams are started, the rights of Pennsylvania forever, as far as the Delaware River are concerned, are fixed.

Mr. President, I think that before we take any action on a matter of this type we need every last bit of legal, engineering and all other kinds of advice we can get.

Mr. President, I cannot subscribe to the conclusions about such distinguished members of the Pennsylvania Bar as Mr. Greenfield, Mr. Schnader and Mr. Segal, which were drawn here. I have tried to learn something about INCODEL and I know that it is such a major problem that were I Attorney General, I, too, would like some outside advice and some counsel from distinguished lawyers on the problems affecting the rights of four States to the water in the Delaware River forever, once the compact is signed.

Mr. President, perhaps our distinguished colleague, for whom I have the greatest respect, Mr. Yosko, not being a member of the Bar himself, does not fully appreciate the need for consultant services in matters of such importance.

Mr. President, as a member of the Forests and Waters, Game and Fish Committee which took up this matter, I do want to say this in defense of the Chairman, Senator Blass, from Erie. I was one who, at the meeting, said that I would not vote to bring that bill out on the floor of this Senate until we had a public hearing, and until we got all the facts on all sides of this controversy from eveyone who has worked on it, from the lawyers and the engineers and the fish and game people and everybody who is involved. I think that it is as major a step—that is if we join the Incodel Pact—as any Pennsylvania Legislature has ever been asked to take. Before we vote on it, we should vote only after a very full, thorough examination of all the facts and the interests of all of the parties concerned.

Mr. President, I do not know whether Senator Yosko know of my stand in the committee, but I was one who, as I have said, supported Senator Blass, the chairman of the committee, by stating that I personally would not vote to bring this bill out on the floor until we did have a full and complete public hearing on the matter.

Mr. President, I have tried to learn something of the Incodel plan. I have read pamphlets and letter with-

Mr. President, I have tried to learn something of the Incodel plan. I have read pamphlets and letters without end from people who are interested and who think it is good, who think it is bad, who think that something better can be had and, as I said there is a welter of controversy and statistics leading to all sorts of conclusions about it.

Mr. President, I agree that in the closing stages of this Legislature, this matter should not be taken up in haste. It is something that requires very careful and deliberate action. I know that Senator Yosko and Senator Blass are both sincere and they are both convinced of the soundess of their own positions on this matter, and that they have the same mutual respect and regard for each other as all Senators have. I think they are both acting in what they consider to be the best interests of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to correct the statement made by my colleague, Mr. Mahany. This is not a new problem.

Mr. President, I have been in this Legislature for twenty years and for fifteen years I have heard arguments pro and con on this problem. They have had engineers on it, they have had great study on it and nothing has really been accomplished. I believe that there is something wrong when we keep postponing and postponing making a decision when other States have made the decision.

Mr. President, I do not think the fact that a man has accumulated a fortune makes him an expert on anything. I think there are many people in this world today who have not accumulated a fortune and who are better experts. Some of the men's names that have been mentioned here, I must admit have become very wealthy, but I do not think their wealth should make them experts on water. Maybe they have had very little experience with water, for all I know.

Mr. President, I do think that Senator Yosko was right in demanding a showdown. After fifteen years, if we have not decided anything, then as Legislators I think we are complete failures. I believe this bill should have had a public hearing, reported out and had a complete discussion on the floor and all parties heard from. We should have voted upon it at this Session.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Holland referred a little while ago to something that I said. I know that everyone here knows that I have been sitting down and keeping quiet through this entire debate.

Mr. President, there is a song which has some words in it, "I hear voices when there's no one there." I think the fellow in that song was lovesick, or something like that, and I hope that has not happened to Senator Holland.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I apologize, The name "Mahany" has been used more this Session than that of any other one man because we have to go to him for all the information and, naturally, he is uppermost in our minds. I am very sorry to say that there is no love affair existing.

Mr. President, I meant to refer to Mr. McMenamin in my discussion.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 147 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 147 for consideration at this time.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

DIRECTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS TO DESIGNATE THE MONONGAHELA TRAIL AS A MEMORIAL HIGHWAY

In the Senate, July 13, 1953.

The old Monongahela Trail in western Pennsylvania has been a part of the history and development of our State since the first Indian tribes moulded it out of the wilderness;—The Monongahela Trail that travels along the greatest Valley in the World through the heart of America. During the early 18th century thousands of Americans moved down the Monongahela River by barge to the great Ohio River at the point in Pittsburgh. On this trail is found the point where General Edward Braddock was mortally wounded during the French and Indian War, the headquarters used during the Whiskey Rebellion; the place where the first inland steamboat was built; and the place where the Flagship of the Texas Navy was built. It passes the famous point in Pittsburgh. the site of historic Fort Duquesne. It follows the Monongahela River, which carry more tonnage in water freight each year than either the Panama or Suez Canals. It winds through the greatest industrial area in the world, the steel capitol of the world, one of the greatest Glass manufacturers and one of the most famous coal mining areas of the world.

The Monongahela Trails pass the trail to the Ten Mile Creek at Rices Landing in Green County and travels through one of the most beautiful sections of Pennsylvania, where nature's splendid rivals the scenery of any part of the world, and provides a stunning contrast to the developments of men. It is an area where the majestic hills of Pennsylvania display a magnificence that fills the beholders with awe.

It is tragic that thousands of people travel the Monongahela Trail unaware that they are surrounded by history and a tradition of honest hard labor and devotion to God and Country that is surpassed no where in the world; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the old Monongahela Trail starting at the great Point on the south side of the Monongahela River across from Fort Duquesne, the great Gateway to the West; thence up through the south side of the City of Pittsburgh on up the Valley through West Homestead, Homestead, Munhall, Whitaker, West Mifflin, City of Duquesne, Dravosburg, City of Clairton, West Elizabeth, Jefferson, Elrama in Allegheny County; thence up the Valley through New Eagle, City of Monongahela, Donora, North Charleroi, Charleroi, Spears, Allenport, Stockdale, Roscoe. Elko, Coal Center, California, West Brownsville, Vesta Fredericktown, Millsboro in Washington County; thence up the Valley to Rices Landing in Green County on to Crucible, Jacobs-Ferry, Nemacoln, Greensboro, Poland; thence to the West Virginia State Line, be dedicated as a memorial highway in commemoration of the many contributions to the progress of America, made in this valley by people of this Valley; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall erect along said highways, suitable tablets or markers and shall carry out suitable landscape development to perpetuate this resolution, but shall not replace or change the officially designated route numbers or names or markers thereof of any highway included in the Monongahela Trail.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 147 ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1140

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1140.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to make a statement that as Chairman of Reapportionment in the Senate, I am extremely happy that we were able to accomplish something that has not been done for a great many years in these Halls.

Mr. President, both the House and the Senate Reapportionment Committees have worked faithfully and very diligently in order that we could accomplish what your Conference Report contains. The Governor and the Republican Party, in its platform, promised to do their utmost toward the realization of reapportionment. I am very happy tonight to ask for the adoption of this Conference Report, after all this work and time, which means that we in Pennsylvania are going to have House Reapportionment.

Mr. President, somebody may ask the question as to why we do not have Senate Reapportionment. I just want to say this. Had both of the bills been on the floor of either Chamber at the same time, it would have created a furor.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:
